Will Testify at Coal Hearing

Before Commerce Commission Tomorrow

Will Urge Permanent Embargo Upon Exportation of Anthracite Fuel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—F. R. Wadleigh, chief of the coal division of the department of commerce and former federal fuel distributor, and Congressman John Jacob Rogers of Massachusetts will be two of the feature witnesses at the interstate commerce commission hearing relative to railroads rates on anthracite coal in the federal building at Boston tomorrow (Friday). U. S. Senator Butler, chief examiner for the commission, will preside at the hearing, and J. J. Hickey, chief for the commission's bureau of inquiry, will appear as counsel for the commission. They have held similar hearings at Augusta, Me., and Montpelier, Vt., and will go to Albany, N. Y., from Boston.

Congressman Rogers, who has been a recognized authority on the New England fuel situation, plans to make two important points at the hearing, at which he will appear as a result of a letter from Interstate Commerce Commissioner McFarland, in general charge of the rate hearings, who said, in effect, that the commission would welcome suggestions from Mr. Rogers.

The two points which Congressman Rogers will make are these:

1. The necessity of a permanent embargo upon the exportation of anthracite.

2. The advisability, in the meantime of using the rates on anthracite for Canada as a means of holding down exports to that country.

TWO CROWDED COACHES JUMPED TRACKS, ROLLED 40 FEET AND TURNED UPSIDE DOWN

ORLANDO, W. Va., Nov. 1.—More than 75 passengers were injured, four seriously, when a local B. & O. train from Clarksburg to Richwood was derailed today. Two coaches, crowded with passengers, jumped the tracks and rolled about 40 feet into a field, where they turned upside down. The injured were brought to a hotel here. Doctors and nurses from nearby towns were summoned to Orlando and an emergency hospital was set up in the hotel. A number of women suffered broken bones and other injuries, while one small boy was hurt seriously. Practically every passenger on the two coaches suffered burns. The attending physicians said that a majority of the injured sustained cuts and bruises and were not in a serious condition.

Actions will come under the wire before the office closes at 1 p.m. Nearly a million dollars was taken in yesterday, the exact amount being $841,165.22, all being represented in checks except $16,000 in cash. Heavy payments this forenoon included the $86,491.28 tax of the Lawrence Mfg. Co. and the tax of the Trenton & Suffolk, the largest in the city, amounting to $163,224.92.

This is the first year the city has operated under the new state finance law which makes it mandatory upon the treasurer to collect taxes the same year in which they are levied and it has worked out very well. It is believed the amount outstanding after today will be small.

Tax Books Out Today

Five thousand copies of the 1923 city tax list were placed on the counter of the assessing department at city hall today for public distribution upon personal application and so brisk was the demand that more than 2600 of the books had been given out at noon. It is expected the entire allotment will be gone by tomorrow night.

This is the first tax list to be published since 1919 and during the four year interval the public evidently has developed a considerable desire for the books, hence the general demands made. Because of the rather limited supply, only one book is given a person.

NO BALLOTING FOR COUNCILORS IN THREE WARDS UNLESS NEW CANDIDATES ENTER LISTS

Unless new candidates appear and file papers with the election commissioners before 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Joseph A. N. Murray in ward 6, Arthur Genes in ward 7 and Eugene A. Fitzgerald and Frank McMahon in ward 2 will be declared nominated in those districts and their names will not appear on the primary ballots on November 13. Councilor Genes has an opponent and former Councilor McMahon is the only one to battle. Councilor Fitzgerald ran unopposed in ward 8, but two candidates appeared today to make it a contest in that district. They are Parker Dougherty, 51 Northcross street, and Sterling B. Crosby, 20 Light avenue.

Up until Tuesday, with only four school committee candidates in the field, this part of the primary election also looked like a declaration of nomination and no balloting but yesterday and today brought four new candidates into the running, thus assuring a contest. New committee aspirants who took out papers today were Clarence J. O'Keefe, 117 Hoyt avenue; Edward J. Rose, 65 Prince street and Parker F. Murphy, 55 London street.

It also appeared as if Councilor Arthur B. Chadwick would run unopposed in ward 8, but two candidates appeared today to make it a contest in that district. They are Parker Dougherty, 51 Northcross street, and Sterling B. Crosby, 20 Light avenue.

Krikos Stephanian, proprietor of a Market street lodging house, from which two girls were taken a week ago last Tuesday and subsequently sentenced to the house of correction for six months each for disorderly conduct, appeared in district court this morning on a charge of maintaining a house of ill-fame. He was found guilty and ordered committed to the house of correction for a term of one year. On appeal, he was made to recognize in $50 for appearance in superior court.

Stephanian said he owned the lodging house for one year. He further stated that he recently had trouble with the colored woman who was in the house with him.

Denies Charge of Being "Kluxman at Large"—

Member Without Consent

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press) William Joseph Simmons, emperor of the KKK, conferred a life membership in the Klan upon Gov. J. C. Walton, in "just recognition of your constant loyalty," according to a letter to Walton dated Sept. 10, 1923. Governor Walton declared in a statement issued today.

The governor said he requested the certificate of membership be not mailed him, as he was not in sympathy with Klan ideals.

Governor Walton reiterated that he had never applied for membership in the Ku Klux Klan and denied the statement of Imperial Wizard Evans at Atlanta, that he is a "Kluxman at large."

"I would rather be right and work in a ditch, than to be the highest official of the invisible empire and dwell in the palace of the king," the governor declared.

NAVAL OFFICERS ARE BLAMED

Responsible for Loss of Seven Destroyers—and 23 Lives at Honda Point, Cal.

Charged With "Culpable Inefficiency in Performance of Their Duty"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Firing "complete responsibility" for the loss of seven destroyers and of 23 lives at Honda Point, Cal., September 3, on three officers attached to the destroyer Delphy, the findings of the naval board of inquiry on which a court martial has been ordered to inquire into the performance of duty of eight other officers who commanded destroyers in the group which crashed on the rocks after miscalculation of position, will face trial on charge of negligence.

The report of the board, published today, said it saw no extenuating circumstances in the conduct of the commanding commander, Captain Edward B. Watson, the commander of the Delphy; Lieutenant commander Donald T. Hunter and the navigating officer, Lieutenant Lawrence E. Blodgett, to excuse them from accepting "full responsibility for the accident." It was held to be "directly attributable to bad judgment and faulty navigation" in their acts.

For having "too blindly followed the judgment of the squadron commander" in failing to check the position of their individual ships, the commanders of the other destroyers, the court found, must be held responsible in a measure. Had correct judgment been displayed on their part, the report said, the equipment of the vessel could have been used to check their position against that ascertained for the Delphy.

The board highly commended the morale shown by the personnel of the destroyers in the emergency of the crash, declaring it was due to "this perfect discipline that the loss of life was so small." It cited more than a dozen officers and men whom it thought should be commended by Secretary Denby.

Death Court Martial

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 1.—At the request of the defendants, the court martial of 11 officers of the United States navy involved in the wreck of seven destroyers at Point Honda, scheduled to open today, will be delayed for several days.

The officers desire more time to prepare their defense.

HALLOWEEN PERFORMERS PICK STREET RAILWAY FOR THE "GOAT"

The boys were out in force last night to celebrate Halloween and, from the testimony offered by the car operators, they found the street railway cars to be the main butt for their operations.

Supt. Thomas J. Sayers reported this morning the following cases where boys had "picked" up the street railway company in spirit of fun and had suddenly disrupted the service.

On the Pawtucketville line near the corner of Chase avenue and Main street, 1,600 pounds of sugar, and a quantity of mash were seized. Some 200 yards of wire and insulation were taken from the wires.

The officers arrested at this place the offenders and visited a house on Elm street in Stowesdale and took four girls there, besides hundreds of gallons of molasses and equipment.

The men arrested there were Vincente

DiCarlo, 64 years old, and Thomas

Amoruso, 38 years old. It is alleged that these were among the biggest rascals ever made in Worcester.

Arrests in Lawrence

While the above operations were going on in Worcester, Federal Agents Walter H. Sullivan and John Hall of this city were making a clean-up in Lawrence and Haverhill. In Lawrence the two officers donned overalls and made five arrests in six places visited.

Two of the offenders, according to the officers, boasted to the agents while serving them drinks, that they would never be caught. Asked why they were so sure they said that they knew the officers, and said that two men, one of them, Sullivan, visited Lawrence frequently, but that he was known and no longer feared. At this point Sullivan made known his identity and the men were placed under arrest.

The six arrested in Lawrence were: Thomas B. Murphy, of 303 Park street; Stephen Burns, of 144 Hampshire st.; George Dobbins, of 126 Lowell street; Joseph Proulx, of 492 Common street; and Nicholas Cervi and James Ford of 56 Common street. They were locked up at the Lawrence police station and called to appear before Commissioner Walsh here tomorrow morning.

The officers ceased their activities in Lawrence after visiting six places because, they said, other places had been tipped off of impending visits.

Activities in Haverhill

After leaving Lawrence the two officers went to Haverhill and there arrested Patrick O'Connor, a clerk at the store of William J. Casey, of 279 Winter street. Sullivan and Hall, dressed as laborers, picked up an acquaintance with two men and visited the Casey store, entering by a rear door.

It is alleged that the four men asked for drinks, for which $1 was paid, the two local men drinking theirs and Sullivan and Hall emptying their drinks into a bottle and then buying. It is alleged a half pint for another dollar.

O'Connor was then placed under arrest and he requested permission to change his coat, the two agents thus securing three plats and a half more when he did so from the coat he was wearing.

Lloyd George in New York—Completes 6000-Mile Tour of U. S. and Canada

Will Deliver Final Address in Metropolitan Opera House Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press) David Lloyd George, Britain's war premier, has ended his six thousand mile tour of the United States and Canada. He arrived in New York last night, went to the home of John W. Davis, former ambassador to the Court of St. James in Luton Valley, L. I., and made final preparations for his two final addresses in this country. The first will be delivered at the Lotos club tonight and the second at the Metropolitan Opera House tomorrow night.

Mr. Lloyd George, although free from any public engagements until tonight, will not rest today. He planned to pass the morning attending to personal affairs, and later, if he could spare the time, to visit the grave of Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and call on Mrs. Roosevelt at her home there.

Arrival of the former premier last night was without incident. There was a small crowd of admirers in the Hoboken station of the Lackawanna railroad where his special train arrived a few minutes before 8 o'clock. Elaborate police arrangements had been made and the station was closely guarded. It was denied, however, that this precaution was taken because of threatening letters. Mr. Lloyd George was said to have received, presumably from Irish republican sympathizers. The only demonstration was a friendly one.

BIG GRIST OF CASES BEFORE COM. WALSH

United States Commissioner Richard Brabrook Walsh will have a large number of alleged violators of the prohibition law brought before him in the tierman street court house Friday morning as a result of activities of Federal Prohibition Agents in Lawrence, Haverhill and Worcester yesterday.

In Worcester several successful raids were made by agents who were armed with search warrants secured earlier in the day. Commissioner Walsh is in this city. The agents were John Neches and Angus G. Lavine. Six stills and hundred of gallons of moonshine mash, and samples were seized by the agents co-operating with the Worcester and Shrewsbury police.

At a farm in Shrewsbury two 75-galton stills, 1,600 pounds of sugar, and a quantity of mash were seized. Sam

Sam Levy was arrested at this place. The officers then visited a house on Elm street in Stowesdale and took four girls there, besides hundreds of gallons of moonshine and equipment.

The men arrested there were Vincente DiCarlo, 64 years old, and Thomas Amoruso, 38 years old. It is alleged that these were among the biggest rascals ever made in Worcester.

FUNERALS

NIXON.—The funeral of Herman L. Nixon took place from the funeral church, 236 Westford street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Calem C. Fisher, D.D., pastor of the First Universalist church. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. D. L. Roberts. There were many moral offerings. The bearers were Levi Nixon, Charles Nixon, Gordon Armstrong and Arthur Bartons. Nixon was in the family lot in the Northwood cemetery at Littleton. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

PLACE

The funeral of Mary A. Place, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Place, took place from the home of her parents, 167 West Sixth street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Appleton Griggs, rector of St. Anne's Episcopal church. There were many moral offerings. Burial was in the family lot in the Calvary cemetery, Lawrence.

The officers ceased their activities in Lawrence after visiting six places because, they said, other places had been tipped off of impending visits.

SEPARATISTS WILL NOT YIELD

Matthes Declares Only Free, Independent Rhineland Will Be Accepted

Officials Feel Present Movement May Dissolve Itself Within Few Weeks

COBLENZ, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press) Unless there is some indication soon that efforts to establish an independent Rhineland state have the support of the general population, the present separatist movement may dissolve of itself within a few weeks, it was said today in official circles which are closely in touch with all developments.

Several proposals for compromise already have been advanced, it is understood. One of these provides for an autonomous state, but Joseph Matthes, premier of the provisional government of the Rhineland republic, asserts he will not consider any such proposal.

"It will be a free, independent Rhineland or nothing," Matthes said.

There are many representative citizens who favor autonomy, but they will have nothing to do with the present movement on the ground that the leaders of the movement are not representative officials nor business men and lack the confidence of the people.

At the French press headquarters, it was said to be quite apparent now that the present movement is not backed by representative leaders nor by the people generally.

SECOND VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 1.—Kings Collins, who was injured in the auto accident at Park Laramie Hill, Killingly, Conn., early Monday morning, died at the hospital here early today. His death is the second resulting from the wrecking of the motor car of Marsden J. Perry, Jr., of this city. F. Richard Wheelwright, died a few minutes after he was taken from under the car. Collins saw service overseas during the war as an officer of the 17th field artillery of the 21st division.

DEATHS

FITZGERALD.—The many friends of Mrs. Mary (Papovian) Fitzgerald will be shocked to learn of her death which occurred yesterday morning at her home, 100 Pleasant street, Boston, not in the best of health for the past week. She arose as usual this morning to attend to her household affairs, but was unable to continue, death coming peacefully within a few hours. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Frank Fitzgerald, well known player of the Eastern Mass. railroad; three sisters, Mrs. Hannah Minihan of Cambridge and Mrs. Cornelius Fitzgerald of Somerville; and Mrs. Cornelius Sullivan of Cambridge; one brother, James Donavan and several nieces and nephews. The man who will be buried is the man who was implicated in the affair, namely, Edward J. Fitzgerald, well known player of the Eastern Mass. railroad; three sisters, Mrs. Hannah Minihan of Cambridge and Mrs. Cornelius Fitzgerald of Somerville; one brother, James Donavan and several nieces and nephews.

While he was investigating, Officer Lynch appeared on the scene and another man, giving the name of Henry Brady, dashed for a nearby fire box. He started in pursuit, thinking the man was implicated in the affair, Brady, however, told him that he was simply walking by and seeing the blaze, decided to summon appearance.

When the department arrived on the scene, the blaze was easily extinguished. Paper and clothing, saturated with gasoline, were found where the fire was discovered.

Police investigation this morning disclosed the fact that the store is insured for $2,000, the latest policy, one of $1,200, having been taken out last week. It was also brought to light that the lease on the property ran out last night.

FUNERALS

NIXON.—The funeral of Herman L. Nixon took place from the funeral church, 236 Westford street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Calem C. Fisher, D.D., pastor of the First Universalist church. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. D. L. Roberts. There were many moral offerings. The bearers were Levi Nixon, Charles Nixon, Gordon Armstrong and Arthur Bartons. Nixon was in the family lot in the Northwood cemetery at Littleton. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

PLACE.—The funeral of Mary A. Place, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Place, took place from the home of her parents, 167 West Sixth street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Appleton Griggs, rector of St. Anne's Episcopal church. There were many moral offerings. Burial was in the family lot in the Calvary cemetery, Lawrence.

The officers ceased their activities in Lawrence after visiting six places because, they said, other places had been tipped off of impending visits.

ACTIVITIES IN LAWRENCE

While the above operations were going on in Worcester, Federal Agents Walter H. Sullivan and John Hall of this city were making a clean-up in Lawrence and Haverhill. In Lawrence the two officers donned overalls and made five arrests in six places visited.

Two of the offenders, according to the officers, boasted to the agents while serving them drinks, that they would never be caught. Asked why they were so sure they said that they knew the officers, and said that two men, one of them, Sullivan, visited Lawrence frequently, but that he was known and no longer feared. At this point Sullivan made known his identity and the men were placed under arrest.

The six arrested in Lawrence were:

Thomas B. Murphy, of 303 Park street; Stephen Burns, of 144 Hampshire st.; George Dobbins, of 126 Lowell street; Joseph Proulx, of 492 Common street; and Nicholas Cervi and James Ford of 56 Common street. They were locked up at the Lawrence police station and called to appear before Commissioner Walsh here tomorrow morning.

The officers ceased their activities in Lawrence after visiting six places because, they said, other places had been tipped off of impending visits.

FATS THAT MAKE BLOOD

The fats form the third group in the foods that are a necessary requirement for the upkeep and health of your body. In the actual order of use, they probably rank second, the carbohydrates being first and the proteins third as regards percentage value in calories.

You will remember that in the fuel foods consisting of starch, fat and sugar, fat is also second. Its place and value as a food in muking blood for body burning tissue is therefore well defined.

Some people are real enemies of fat. Yet fat as a food, not as surplus non-working tissue, is absolutely essential to normal bodily health and growth. If your body does not receive some food rich in fat it will burn up. The tissues will be drawn upon to supply the deficiency. You will be thin, undernourished and weak in disease resistance.

Here are some foods, rich in fats, which will help to build tissue for fuel.

Butter, cream and cheese are in the front rank. Roast beef, roast pork and ham are runners up. Spinach, the great regulator, is rich in fat; eat it whether you like it or not. Onions well cooked come second to spinach in the vegetable list. In 100 calories of onions, 40 per cent, is fat food.

Baked beans are still good as ever. If they don't interfere with your digestion, they are a good fat producing food used once or twice a week.

Peas and string beans are also excellent. Cheap fats are oleomargarine and cotton seed oil.

Potato chips contain 63 per cent fat. Milk shares this value as a food material in good proportions, containing 32 per cent fat, 29 per cent carbohydrate and 19 per cent protein.

It is well to learn and practice economy in buying food. But one should always remember that there is no better economy than the conservation of one's working power. I wish that the millions of our people, who are forced through necessity to live within well defined cost limitations, could in some way acquire the knowledge by which they would thoroughly know and be able to select from these three great groups, a proper nourishing diet. The positive health program that so many newspapers with the aid of scientists and physicians are carrying out, at the present time, will help to a marked degree in bringing this about.

New Starch Discovery Preserves Your Dainty Garments

FREQUENT washing is the hardest thing in the world on clothes. Perhaps the chief reason clothes soil so readily is that they are not protected by starch, or else the proper kind of starch has not been used.

Thousands of housewives now starching with Linit, are giving their fabrics protection from wear and tear.

New Starch Discovery

THIS remarkable starch is made by an improved process that keeps it fluid after it cools. You are never troubled with clotting, smearing or "blistering." Linit penetrates every thread of the fabric, helps prevent wear, and strengthens the material.

Linit gives ordinary cotton goods an attractive linen finish and your Linit-starched garments remain clean and fresh much longer.

Important to you

AFTER Linit is thoroughly dissolved, according to directions and ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE WATER—with a "milky" appearance. Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and, unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is one reason why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches and is easier to iron with.

Linit costs 10c at all grocers

Get a package and begin the modern way of starching your fabrics. Perfection in starching guaranteed or your money refunded.

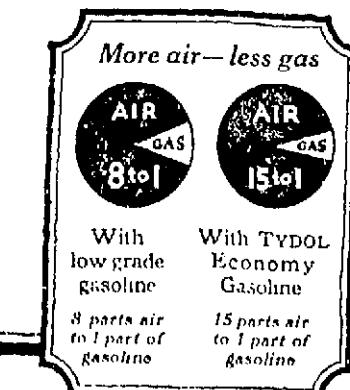

Linit is made by the Corn Products Refining Company—makers of the famous Argo Starch—Karo Syrup and Mazola Salad and Cooking Oil.

HALLOWEEN MADE JOYOUS OCCASION IN THIS CITY—MANY PARTIES IN VARIOUS SECTIONS

It was a tired, but happy and satisfied crowd of youngsters who crept in under the blankets last night, after first removing the traces of burnt cork and grease paint from their faces and shedding their grotesque garments in which they had paraded and made merry through the streets earlier in the evening. For Halloween is theirs by right, they consider, the one night in which they may adorn themselves in wild and woolly garb or in the shroud of a ghost on pleasure bent.

And there were the usual pranks, but in general the lads who have bared themselves fairly well and did not give the authorities much trouble in some places they overstepped the bounds and tied up traffic by stringing a rope across the street, and broke a few windows besides. But the great majority of youngsters were merely out for fun and did not resort to any violence to get it.

While the kiddies were having their fun outside, their older brothers and sisters, and in many instances their mothers and fathers, were having their fun at the numerous Halloween dinner parties and dances. Like the kiddies, many of the older ones also garbed themselves in comedy costumes and threw restraint to the winds. Pleasure with a capital P was what everyone was looking for last night, and on the whole it was an evening of satisfaction for all.

ANNUAL HALLOWEEN PARTY AT C. Y. M. L.

The annual Halloween party of the C.Y.M.L. was held last night in the social hall and proved to be one of the most successful events of its kind held in the city last night. The attendance was unusually large and every one joined in celebrating the night in a characteristic way.

The hall was decorated in orange and black, pennons of those colors being strung from the center chandeliers to the corners of the hall and drapery of the same colors being hung from the balconies.

Dancing was started shortly after 8 o'clock and continued until midnight, with an intermission at 10:30 o'clock. Several novelty dances were given during the evening and favors appropriate of the day were given the participants of the following: English channel, was scheduled to give a short talk during the intermission but was detained in New York, where he took part in an Elks' charity entertainment.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of the following: John W. Guinnness, chairman; John F. Murphy, treasurer; James P. Saunders, secretary; James J. Brulin, John J. Flannery, Harold B. Sullivan, William McDonough, Patrick Brady, Joseph Hession, Cleon O'Neill, and John J. Mahoney. The officers of the dance were John H. Mahoney, general manager; John W. How I Was Wrecking the Lives of My Children

And Suffering Indescribable Tortures Myself Day and Night. A Mother's Terrible Confession.

For some time I had noticed that my two children, a boy of sixteen and a girl of ten, were becoming highly nervous, irritable and very disobedient. I tried various punishments, even whipping, but they kept growing worse. My own nerves were all "on edge," the least thing put me into a rage, I longed to weep, too, on account of life, and too nervous and irritable to sleep anywhere. I often suffered from severe heart palpitation and indigestion. I could not sleep at night, I had an almost constant dull aching pain in the back of my neck and head, and frequently a very disagreeable sense of fullness in the front part of my mouth. I often had cramps, which ached my back, which made me think I had kidney trouble. I could not begin to describe all the tortures and terrible pains which I often suffered.

Finally I went to a doctor and told him my story. After studying my case, he told me I was the victim of my children's conduct. He told me to allow the children only manufactured iron which forms the nerve force and that this vital fluid of life was stored in the nerve cells, much like electricity is stored in a storage battery and is just as quickly exhausted.

He said my own highly nervous condition had been a constant drain on the nerve force of my children, and the same was done for my children. I found them to be the most, wicked children in the world, their whole dispositions entirely changed.

The doctor gave a hypodermic capsule which a woman says may well be the best medicine which exists today. Home-made wretched children ruined all through exhausted nerve force. Very few people realize the terrible physical and mental tortures often caused by a depletion of the nervous fluid.

In such cases what you need is to put more force into your nerves and more into your blood. How this is accomplished by the use of NUXATED IRON.

This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active hydro-nitric force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the nerve and brain cells of man.

It also contains ergotine from the root in your blood and like the iron in sponge shells it is good. This is a product which will strengthen your nerves, the stomach and the liver.

It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take.

Nuxated Iron is stored in a storage battery and is just as quickly exhausted.

Home-made wretched children ruined all through exhausted nerve force. Very few people realize the terrible physical and mental tortures often caused by a depletion of the nervous fluid.

In such cases what you need is to put more force into your nerves and more into your blood. How this is accomplished by the use of NUXATED IRON.

This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active hydro-nitric force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the nerve and brain cells of man.

It also contains ergotine from the root in your blood and like the iron in sponge shells it is good. This is a product which will strengthen your nerves, the stomach and the liver.

It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take.

Nuxated Iron is stored in a storage battery and is just as quickly exhausted.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST DISEASE

Enough of the present year has passed to permit the health authorities to strike a fair average for the health of the people of Massachusetts this year. Epidemics of one kind or another may come, of course, before 1923 passes on, but present indications, according to eminent health experts in the Bay State, are that the population in this commonwealth is moving toward and speed toward a healthier life.

Dr. Bernard W. Carey, director of the division of communicable diseases of the state department of public health, recently commented upon some phases of infant health. He states that the only diseases that do not seem to have some under control as yet are the measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria, which present problems for the parents as well as for the health authorities of the cities and towns, because a great deal depends for success in treatment upon the early detection of the symptoms in the home.

That diphtheria is receiving more attention at the present time than any of the other ailments of mankind, both from the public health authorities and from the people generally, goes without saying. Great work has already been done in saving lives by the Schick test and relatively new work of immunization.

The story of progress is told largely in the splendid work of the state's biological laboratory in Jamaica Plain, where the new anti-toxin is now being prepared. Persons who are immunized by it become exempt when diphtheria makes its rounds. The work in Northampton alone proves the value of the Schick treatment beyond all doubt, according to best informed medical practitioners.

BONAR LAW

"Broadway"—but misspelled, a fact which buttresses the lack of intelligence of England, who has just passed a decree of the writer, is it possible to man, was a successful business man himself, that their parents are taxpayers and for a time a popular politician of the Tory or Conservative type. He was forced to leave his property? On general was opposed to the liberation of Ireland, it would be well to caution whom Lloyd George was the chief exponent of property, either public or private, as a critic of the administration and cannot be referred to that those of particular governmental policies he approved to be an opponent whose decisive attacks were leveled, and so it came to pass, that he became popular as such, and people supposed him to possess the elements of statesmanship that are demanded in British premiers. As a result he became premier following the collapse of the Lloyd George regime of which he was a part during the war.

The six months of his service as premier revealed the fact that when the responsibility was placed on his shoulders, he had but little of the courage and gift of leadership for which Lloyd George was so noted. As a result, he seemed to be in very bad company out of business. Meanwhile, man and while as such he rendered the nation the gainers and they good service—always honest and always correct, they cannot store easily efficient yet when placed in a supply at the low price sufficiently efficient yet when placed in command, his lack of ability was soon apparent to serve them next year. It came apparent. He did not have the force of character to formulate a policy of his own or pursue one different from that which he had been taught. A child of 4 requires 12 hours' sleep. Ages 5 to 7 need 11 to 12 hours; accustomed to oppose. This is not true. Ages 8 to 11 need 10 to 11 hours. Ages 12 to 14 need 9 to 10 hours. These figures are quoted in a government circular dealing with children's health.

If a child isn't gaining weight or doing well in school, the reason often is insufficiency of sleep. Suddenly, the stupidity or dullness of many grownups is merely a reflection of cellular exhaustion resulting from not enough sleep. For adults eight hours sleep daily at night is a great safeguard of health in its restorative effect which increases both mental and physical vigor.

WHAT MOTORISTS WANT

Even the motorist has his rights on the highways, though some car drivers are boorish. The annual convention of the National Motorists association was held in Washington Nov. 1 and 2, will probably smooth out some difficulties to the motorist world and reflect some complaints that are presented. The meeting is to consider matters along the following lines:

PINCHOT'S BLUFF

Secretary Mellon of the United States treasury department turns the tables nicely on Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania by proving that the chances of a voter makes against the federal authorities on the enforcement of the prohibition law, are not found in the courts. He proves the governor's statements in this regard untrue and then proceeds to show that Gov. Pinchot has not entered the liquor law in his own state where the authority lies in his hands. It was high time for somebody to call Pinchot's bluff.

FOR BIRD SANCTUARY

This was a happy idea which involved a concert of the late Theodore Roosevelt to purchase a large tract of land and surrounding the grass of Roosevelt's Chester Bay and presented to the Northeast Association of Audubon societies as a sanctuary for wild birds and animals.

Interest among birders, especially in the cause of birds, seems to be increasing, and the request of the former president to have a place to explore the nests of birds and to hear the songs of birds in the natural habitat.

Interest in the preservation of the KKK is also increasing, and the organization of the Klan in the city to the point of a meeting to be held in the auditorium of the YMCA.

THE KU KLUX KLAN

The Klan here is an organization that has been in existence for many years, but is less dominant than it used to be. It is now a social club and will continue to do so until members make up the majority of their organization. The Klan here is seeking to expand its influence in the city by seeking to increase its membership.

An Apt. Story

Gen. Armstrong citizens of Denver said in an address before the American Legion: "Don't be surprised when some people object to your bonus. You remember, no doubt, the general who snarled at the young men of Belvoir Wood, lined out from the money on his crutches with a half-pound of sugar under his arm. That boy deserves credit for his surpassing bravery, but I wish to goodness he'd stop coming to my shop to eat it."

BARRYMORE'S HARD LUCK

With amazement John Drew still recalls a letter that he once received from his nephew, John Barrymore, telling how he had been thrown out of bed into a bath tub by the San Francisco earthquake and had been sent to work piling rocks by the army when he reached the street. "Yes," Mr. Drew went to add, "it took a convolution of nature to get him into the bathtub and the United States army to make him work."

DENIES ILL TREATMENT OF IRISH PRISONERS

DUBLIN, Nov. 1.—An explanation of the alleged reports of the ill treatment of prisoners, was made yesterday before the Dail by Richard Mulcahy, minister of defense, who declared the charges were part of a general campaign of propaganda based on necessary disciplinary measures.

The prisoners in Mountjoy prison had gradually built up a military censorship, he said, which prevented individual prisoners who desired to sign a guarantee, which would secure their release from getting in touch with the prison governor. He charged that when disciplinary action was taken the prisoners mutilated and assaulted the police with iron bolts, necessitating the calling in of the military, who returned warning shots over the prisoners' heads.

When the prisoners refused to leave their cells to go to the exercise grounds, they were either dragged out or had the fire hose turned on them.

After being forced out to the grounds, Mulcahy said, they set fire to the furniture and as a result were left outside all night, the weather being

EXPECT 80,000 TO WITNESS THE YALE-ARMY FOOTBALL BATTLE

Pitching Aces Failed in Series

HOYT

BY BILLY EVANS

The uncertainty of baseball produces many unusual angles. Never was this truth better illustrated than in the 1922 world series. Let me explain.

Prior to the start of the series if there were one pitcher that Miller Huggins banked more on than any other member of his staff, it was Al Hoyt. The big right-hander of the Yankees is known as a great money-pitcher at his best in a pinch. Hoyt has a world of stuff and just as much control.

In the camp of the Giants, John Watson was regarded with great favor.

Watson, the pitcher who had been entrusted with winning all the important games in the final series with the Cincinnati Reds, loomed up as McGraw's pitching ace.

Just after the opening of the series

I was chatting with Blackie, elderly veteran catcher of the Giants. The old-timer Watson he remarked: "He has good stuff and a peculiar style that always puzzles a club facing him for the first time."

Opening Game Selections.

Just what the rival managers thought of Watson and Hoyt can be gleaned from the fact that the jabs were the pitching selections for the first game.

The opening game in a world series is considered all-important, a much desired edge. Both pitchers warmed up well. I jumped at the plate in that game and both seemed to have plenty of stuff.

Watson lasted three innings in which the Yanks nicked him for three runs through consistent hitting. His rather peculiar side arm delivery didn't seem to have any terrors for teh Yankees. Hoyt breezed through three innings without any trouble in an American league game any time a club spots Hoyt three runs in the work ahead to beat him. Then came the break.

Worked Only Few Innings.

The next morning saw the exit of Hoyt from the game and the series. Hoyt, a pitcher who works with his brain as much as his powerful right arm, suffered a mental slip. With runners on first and third, Hoyt wound up, which is contrary to baseball ethics, as it practically permitted the runner on first to jog down to second. But for this error Pipp would have been holding the runner on first and would have stopped the drive of the batsman that went for two bases and scored both runs.

This slip caused Hoyt's withdrawal. Thus before the finish of the first game, the two pitchers on whom the managers had banked to win the opener had been removed from the game. The strange part of it is that neither got another chance to show in the series.

No doubt had the Yankees lost the sixth game in which Hoyt was started with only a day's rest, the second guessers would have had their innuendo as Hoyt appeared to be the focal choice.

The uncertainty of baseball sure produces some unusual angles.

ELIS FACE FIRST TEST AGAINST OPPOSITION OF RECOGNIZED STRENGTH ON SATURDAY

Record Crowd Expected to Jam Yale
Bowl for Colorful Gridiron Contest
—Upon Outcome Will Depend Yale's Hope for Long Awaited "Yale Year"

TWO COLLEGE ELITES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The largest single gathering of football fans this season, 80,000 persons probably will see the Army and Yale engage in their colorful gridiron annual at Yale Bowl next Saturday.

That contest ranks with the Dartmouth-Cornell, the Syracuse-Penn State, and the Indiana-Purdue games as the most popular games in general interest for marks Yale's first test against opposition of recognized strength. Upon its outcome will depend Yale's hope for the long-awaited "Yale year" in football.

Thus far this season that home has been fostered and encouraged for the Eli's have swept aside all foes, and their play against Brown last week led to statements from Brown players that Eli's 40 per cent winning record in 1922. This record, however, was played in 17 games with the Cadets.

The Army has suffered one defeat this year. That came in its Notre Dame contest, but as the Hoosiers whipped Princeton one week later by a larger margin and last week piled up a 39-point total on the reportedly strong Georgia Tech eleven, few regard the Army's single defeat as indicative of real weakness.

Except for their postpone, the Cadet team is made up of players who performed in much less than players who participated in last season's deadlock battle and who, in consequence, are familiar with Yale's standard formation and the individual strength or weakness of many of the Yale players.

Playing one of the vacated positions is Tom Dewey, former Pittsburgh fullback, who has added strength to the cadet backfield. The Army's new wings, however, have shown less strength than was displayed in that department last season.

Yale has undergone many changes since 1922. Only three first string veterans of 1922 were lost through graduation, yet of the eight returning regulars, five will be missing from the Eli line Saturday, including Veltroff, who has been lost through injury and man will be unable to play, owing to for reports from Syracuse state Bow.

Deaver, Miller, Neidlinger, and Nade have been ousted by the substitutes or freshmen last season.

The Dartmouth Cornell engagement at Hanover, N. H., marks the ninth meeting of those colleges since football relations were re-established in 1919, and the record of each of the series Dartmouth having won in 1920 and 1921 and Cornell having won victories the last two years.

Those who view the approaching Syracuse-Penn State battle for an opportunity to compare the worth of Bowman, the Penn-Syracuse clash and Wilson, the Penn-Syracuse claimant for AM

America's honors may be disappointed

MAYS IS DONE

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Pitcher Carl Mays, one star pitcher of the New York Yankees, the player who adroitly disrupted the American League in attempting to pass from the ranks of that organization before the opening of next season. The fat contract that he signed with the club ran out at the close of the 1922 season. In all probability he will be signed again in the spring, but his record of 20 wins and 12 losses of his fast ball, the most deceptive feature of his pitching, was the cause of his lack of effectiveness this year.

SHEVLIN MAY ATTEND

Possibility of N. E. Champ
Witnessing Tansey-Avila
Bout Here Tonight

Eddie Shevlin, New England welter-weight champion, who is to meet George Ward in Boston tomorrow night, is expected to head the Roxbury delegation that will come to Lowell tonight to root for Young Tansey, who clashes with Johnny Avila of Lowell in the main event of the Moody Club card.

Shevlin worked out every afternoon this week with Tansey and he holds the latter in high regard. In fact Eddie is of the firm opinion that his fellow-citizen will score big here, the crown which he now possesses.

Those who have seen Shevlin and Tansey in action the gymnasium declare the former put up about as brilliant an exhibition as one would care to look upon. Close friends of Tansey aver that it will not be many years before Tansey, the pupil, will be able to give Shevlin the teacher a lesson. This has happened before in boxing and those who know feel confident history will repeat itself in this instance. However, for the present the Roxbury pair are pals.

Avila is not worrying over the fact that Shevlin trained Tansey. Johnny worked out with a pretty smart performer in the person of Johnny Clinton, and he feels confident that he will be able to make some of Clinton's stuff this evening.

The bout being at catch weight, Avila was not worried over getting down to any stipulated mark and this fact helped him greatly. Avila concedes Tansey's superior boxing skill but maintains he too is a heavy puncher.

In the semi-final Johnny Dodge will meet Deacon Conroy of Boston. Another brother of Ward will tackle Tom Bartlett of Boston in one round-robin with Guy Runcourt and Fred Costello, both of Lawrence, vied for the other

PONIES TO PLAY INDIAN SECONDS ON SATURDAY

As both the high school and Textile second football squads will be playing on Saturday, the Indian Second, the dominant college team in the Alameda County, will continue its second slate of contests in their second game of the season. The two teams met in an early-season encounter on the Lakeview Avenue grounds. The game was a hard-fought struggle with close scores and first place honors having been suspended while waiting for a sufficient number of the Indian Second to return from an overnight trip to San Francisco. The two Indian Second teams were to meet again on Saturday afternoon at the same place, but the Indians had to postpone the game because of the weather.

Ward and his team were ready to go in the early morning ready to play in the early afternoon, including the Indians.

VETERAN BALL STAR DEADTEXTILE SCHOOL TEAMS

Jiminy Ryan of Old White Stockings Was Related to Lowell Family

Jimmy Ryan, the veteran ball player who died in Chicago on Monday, was well and favorably known in Lowell. He was nephew of Mrs. Elizabeth Mahan of Main Street, Jim Mahan and a first cousin of Police Officer Jim Mahan, veteran boxer. He also left other relatives here.

Ryan was a member of Pop Anson's famous old White Stockings in 1886. He was an outfielder. He threw with the left, but batted from the right side of the plate. He was a whirlwind and a sure fielder in the field, while his heavy and timely hitting broke up many games. Ryan started his baseball career at Holy Cross college, going there from Clinton where he resided at that time.

Patrik Mahan, father of Jack and Jimmy, recognized in Young Ryan a coming star and on his recommendation, "Pop" was given his chance in big League baseball. He made good him-blutely.

Ryan played with the White Stockings for many years but finished his major league career as a member of the Washington team where he was a teammate of Bob Gantley. Ryan also played with and against Billy Murrill, the local veteran big league catcher.

TO DEVELOP CHALLENGER FOR JACK DEMPSEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Heavyweight title contenders will hold the center of interest here during the next few days. Jack Remond, Canadian batter and Floyd Johnson, young Jewish tap dancer, will compete today for their 15-round match tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden. It will be the first of a series of elimination contests planned during the indoor season to develop another challenger for Jack Dempsey.

Hector Wills, negro contender, is preparing to bout with Jack Thompson, Boston negro, at Newark, N. J., next Monday night. It will be Wills' second appearance in a competition which he hopes will lead to a match with the reigning champion.

AMERICAN YEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—This is an American league year in the matter of post-season games. The world series, and the next ranking event in baseball,

the challenge city series, both went to the American leaguers.

It seemed very much like a rout of the American leaguers. The Giants won two of the first three, only to have the Yankees come back with three straight wins. After losing the first two to the Cubs, the White Sox took the next four.

"Intercity grows in America." Which means no doubt, for the increased popularity of the six-day bike race.

ZEV LEAVES FOR LATONIA TO MEET MY OWN

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Zev, the idol of American baseball, departs today for Latonia, there to decide on Saturday the muted question which has the fans legs. My Own or he.

The genesis of Britain's favorite, Puppets, will appear in the greatest Latonia championship, in which My Own is entered.

Zev topped off his triumphant career yesterday by showing his hosts to the world, winning by four lengths the autumn championship of the Metropolitan racing season at Empire City. He evoked great cheer from the crowd over the fact that the race was won.

Incidentally, the great horse earned in this race $30,000, amounting to $10,000 greater than Man o' War's.

At the end of the mile run, Earle Sande let the brown colt gather for another quarter before he took him in hand. The mile was run in 1:46 3/4 over a slow track. Braedale, his stablemate, also is entered.

Nothing Staple in Style Of Staple Jersey Frock

There's not a young girl who would be without at least one wool jersey frock. It has become a staple garment. Staple only as to material, though. There's nothing staple about the color, style or trimming that she may choose. That's one of the charms of the jersey dress—its infinite adaptability.

He has accepted the chairmanship of the American committee in charge of the campaign.

New Blouse Reaches Down To the Knees—Or Below

The newest and most interesting of fall styles is the long blouse—variously called Casque and Chinese. Its general lines are straight and its length is to the knee or below. Three of its interpretations are sketched here. The longest blouse is really part of a dress—a costume worn over a costume slip. The others are worn the same way but are unattached—in any case the general effect is much the same.

REFUSES RECOGNITION MEETING OF THE LION CLUB AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Great Britain Will Not Recognize Separatist Movement in Rhineland

The Lions' club met yesterday at the Y.M.C.A. for their regular weekly dinner with Pres. Charles E. Bartlett presiding. Due to the constant increase in membership it has been necessary to move to the more commodious rooms in the Association building. Preceding the speaking, several selections were rendered by the Lion quartet. Mr. Edwin J. Mellen, scout executive of Lowell, was the speaker of the day, and he gave the members of the club a comprehensive description of the scout movement as was possible in the limited time at his disposal.

In his talk Mr. Mellen told of the origin of the Boy Scouts at the time of the Boer war, when General Baden-Powell used boys for the non-military work in connection with the campaign of the British troops, such as orderlies and messenger boys. The work entrusted to these lads was so willingly performed that when he got back to England the general set about organizing the boys of the country and met with overwhelming success.

An American publisher from Chicago, named Boyce, became interested in the work the English boys were doing and in 1910 he introduced the movement into this country where there are today one million boys actively engaged in scouting.

He then told of the purpose of this training and the interest that men should all have in it. The result of having boys in the scouts is to eliminate lawlessness, to raise boys who are going to make honest, public spirited business men and fine American husbands. He quoted several judges of juvenile delinquency who have endorsed the movement.

The witness said also, this was the only case within his knowledge in which a claim had been allowed after disappearance of the claimant.

The witness said also, this was the only case within his knowledge in which a claim had been allowed after disappearance of the claimant.

Mr. J. Hutchinson, associate general counsel for the veterans' bureau, testified that O'Brien's claim was sent to the controller-general's office on Sept. 19, 1922, and allowed 19 days later.

"Within our experience," he added, "that is a short time to obtain the action of the general accounting office, even in a case where there is no protest against the claim."

The witness said also, this was the only case within his knowledge in which a claim had been allowed after disappearance of the claimant.

The original contract with O'Brien, General Illinois said, provided for plans for a hospital to cost not in excess of $1,000,000. Up to the completion of those plans bids were invited and the lowest bidder was $2,100,000. Between July 21, 1922, and Jan. 23, 1923, O'Brien was paid a total of $34,115, representing General Illinois said a fee of 5 per cent on the lowest bid received.

All bids were rejected, the director testified, and O'Brien understood to accept the plan as it stood. For this work he submitted a claim of $25,000, which Gen. Illinois disapproved.

The matter then was referred to the controller-general's office and on October 8, payment of the full amount of the claim was authorized.

Gen. Illinois read into the record a letter which he subsequently wrote Mr. McCall, contending against the payment and asking that steps be taken to recover from O'Brien the sum paid. He said he had received no acknowledgment of receipt of this letter.

MAN ATTACKED BY INFURIATED BULL

NEW BEDFORD, Oct. 31.—Joseph King, 64-year-old farmer of North Dartmouth, is today confined to bed with a fractured shoulder and otherwise badly bruised as a result of an attack by an infuriated young bull which gored him three times yesterday.

A devoted collie dog came to the rescue of his master and leaped on the back of the powerful animal, viciously stabbing his teeth in the animal's body, distracting the bull's attention sufficiently for Mr. King to drag himself to safety. Today "Sparkle" is the hero of the farm.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH

LEXINGTON, Oct. 31.—A Greek court martial of 12 men has condemned to death Major Doderion, who took a leading part in the recent military insurrection, as a Central News despatcher reports. Three captains were condemned to long terms of imprisonment. Several revolutionaries were given 10 years and seven were acquitted.

A steam roller, you say. You're wrong. It's the first locomotive ever to enter the national capital. It's the Atlantic, designed by a York (Pa.) watchmaker for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in 1832. At the recent three-day golden jubilee celebration at North Baltimore, O., folks from miles around got a ride on it. And gosh, they sure stepped on it! Made about seven miles an hour, according to the motorcycle cop's speedometer.

Settlement in Case of Private

Dilboy, Killed in War, Announced by State Dept.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Final settlement in the case of Private George Dilboy, of Massachusetts, whose body was reported to have been desecrated by Turkish soldiers at Alashata, Turkey, while it rested in a casket covered by an American flag, was announced today by the state department.

The settlement, made by the Turkish government, the department announced, leaves every evidence of their desire to meet this government's wishes and that they had made amends in a public and official manner without having obtained from their own investigation from American sources full confirmation of the original reports.

Private Dilboy was killed in action in France near Belhaia Wood, and was awarded, posthumously, Congressional Medal of Honor. American representatives in Turkey at the time the desecration charges were made in September, 1922, investigated the case and this action was followed by an independent inquiry by the Turkish authorities which resulted in the recovery of the body and coffin at Alashata.

Parents of the soldier, residing on the Island of Chios, Turkey, have requested that their son's body be interred in the Arlington National Cemetery. The casket has arrived in New York and will be sent to Washington for burial in accordance with the desire expressed.

LEASING OF NAVAL OIL RESERVES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—After hearing further evidence regarding the leasing of naval oil reserves in Wyoming and California, the Senate public lands committee announced today that its pending inquiry into the subject would be adjourned indefinitely on Friday because of out-of-town engagements of committee members.

A additional hearings may be held later, however, as the investigation has expanded considerably in scope since it originally began in response to a Senate resolution relating to the leasing of the Teapot Dome Reserve.

Settlement of Controversy Over American Consulate

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press)—A settlement of the controversy over the American consulate at Newcastle-on-Tyne has been reached between Foreign Secretary Curzon and American Ambassador Harvey and, according to Mr. Harvey, the consulate will be reopened within a fortnight.

The Newcastle consulate was closed on Feb. 2 last, after the British government had withdrawn the executives of Consul Fred C. Slater and Vice Consul Russell M. Brooks on charges that they had attempted to divert passengers from British to American steamship lines by making difficulties over the issuance of visas to passengers not travelling on American boats and further by hinting that the passengers were liable to encounter inconvenience in the United States unless they travelled by American liners. The American state department after an investigation exonerated the consular officials. Considerable diplomatic correspondence followed, the United States refusing to compromise on the matter.

After the closing of the consulate Mr. Slater was transferred to Coruna, Spain, and Mr. Brooks to Dresden, Saxony. Under the present settlement they are held as persona grata with the British government but will return to Newcastle from their present assignments. It is expected they will go to other stations within the British empire.

GOVERNMENT TO PAY $3,316,000 TO R. R.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad will receive $3,316,000 from the government having been found to be a creditor rather than a debtor as a result of war time federal control of railroads.

BILL OF COMPLAINT FILED

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press)—The Standard Oil Co. of Indiana today filed a bill of complaint in the United States district court here against the Universal Oil Products Co. and announced that a similar bill had been filed in the federal district court at East St. Louis against the Roxana Petroleum Co. to enjoin them from the use of certain oil cracking processes. The bills allege infringement of patents.

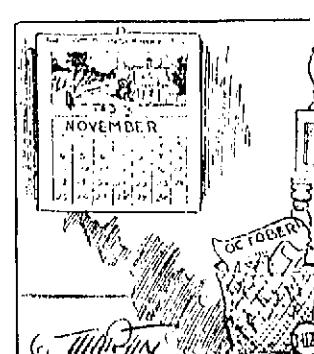

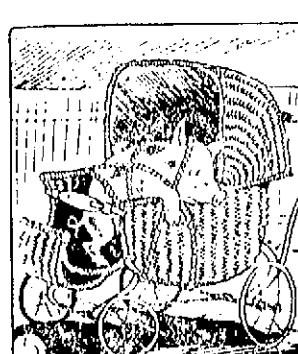

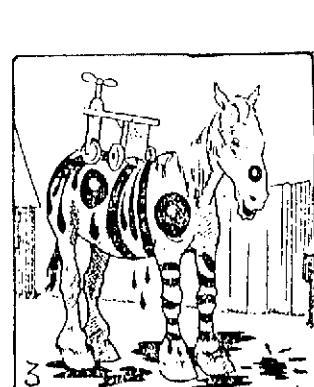

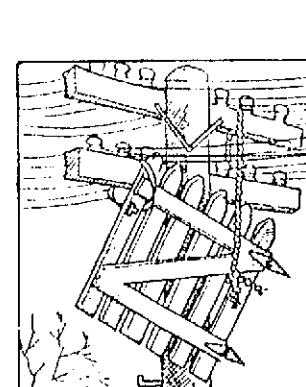

Little talking or moving about; it excited our heart action too much."

A first hoist failed, he explained, after 12 hours.

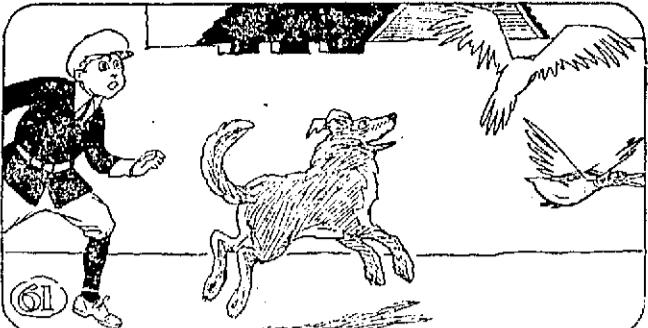

"A long time afterward," Brown went on, "when we had forgotten time and didn't want to think about it a second hoist started. We went up slowly. It seemed like eternity. The last 20 minutes were terrible. Then we heard our comrades walking on deck. We knew we were at the surface. Brown opened the hatch and we were saved."

Charles R. Butler, chief machinist's mate from New Haven, Conn., went down with the boat but fought his way to the surface through an open hatch.

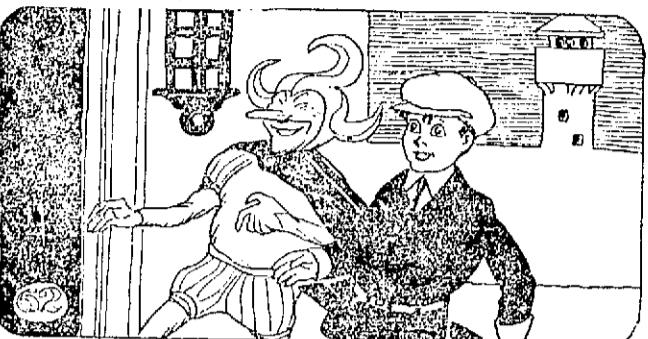

TAKEN FROM LIFE

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 21

Jack watched the great excitement until the last of the animals had gone free and the last of the birds had taken to the air. Flip had also been startled when all the animals and birds came to life, but he recovered in time to chase some of the birds as they flew away.

"And now let's return to the castle," said Jingo. "Oh, I'm afraid to," replied Jack. "I'm afraid the king will be mad because I set all his animals and birds free." "Don't worry about him," laughed Jingo. "He's sound asleep by this time." So they entered the castle again.

As they reached the great room of metal horses and knights Jack saw a big shining helmet in a corner. "I wonder how I would look in this," he said. "Try it on," suggested Jingo. So Jack did, and it seemed to fit him fine. Then came the scared Clark, Clark, Clark! (Continued.)

"GOODBYE TO SQUEALY-MOO LAND"

"We'll go and visit Farmer Brown one day."

"We'll walk through the cornfield."

"This evening pretty late in the fall."

"I think this corn is dry enough for husking." Tomorrow I'll bring Charlie and Tom to the big wagon and we'll take down the corn shocks and haul the corn in. Then I'll invite all my neighbors over and we'll have a husking bee and my wife will have bread and doughnuts for them."

Farmer Brown was talking to himself, but three pairs of sharp little ears heard every word he said.

Nancy looked up. "Oh, Farmer Brown takes away all the corn shocks back into your house, too," she said. "And where will you live this winter, Mister Dodger?"

"Why, I'll go and rest for a spell," answered the little fairy behind her.

"I'll go back to the Fairies' hotel in Fairyland where most of the fairies stay when they aren't working. I haven't seen my friends for so long time and I'll do my best to have a nice visit with Mister Taffy and Mister Stay-Bew and Mister Tugnall and Missy Squeaky-Satchel and all the others I haven't seen for so long."

"But what will the Squeaky-Moo people do without you?" asked Nick.

"Sure!" answered the little fairy, stuffing his old corn cob pipe into his pocket. "It's only when they are out of doors they need to be looked after so much. When they are indoors, as they will have to be mostly from now on, they are safe. Crazy Colt can't eat poison weeds, and Skippy Colt can't squeeze through the orchard fence and make himself sick on sweet apples. And Mister Hawk has gone south for the winter, I guess. I haven't seen him lately, so the chickens and ducks won't be in danger, either."

"Well, if you go, we'll go, too," declared Nancy. "I mean we can't stay in Squeaky-Moo Land by ourselves."

"I was just coming to that," mumbled Mister Dodger with a mysterious smile. "Useful people are never out of job, my dears."

He reached into his pocket and pulled out a letter. "I found this on the table when I came in today," he said. "Silver Wing, the Fairy Queen's messenger, must have brought it while we were out."

It was addressed to the Twins, and read:

"Dear Twins,

"Please come to my palace as soon as you get this. I want you to go south to Dixie Land."

Lovely young "The Fairy Queen."

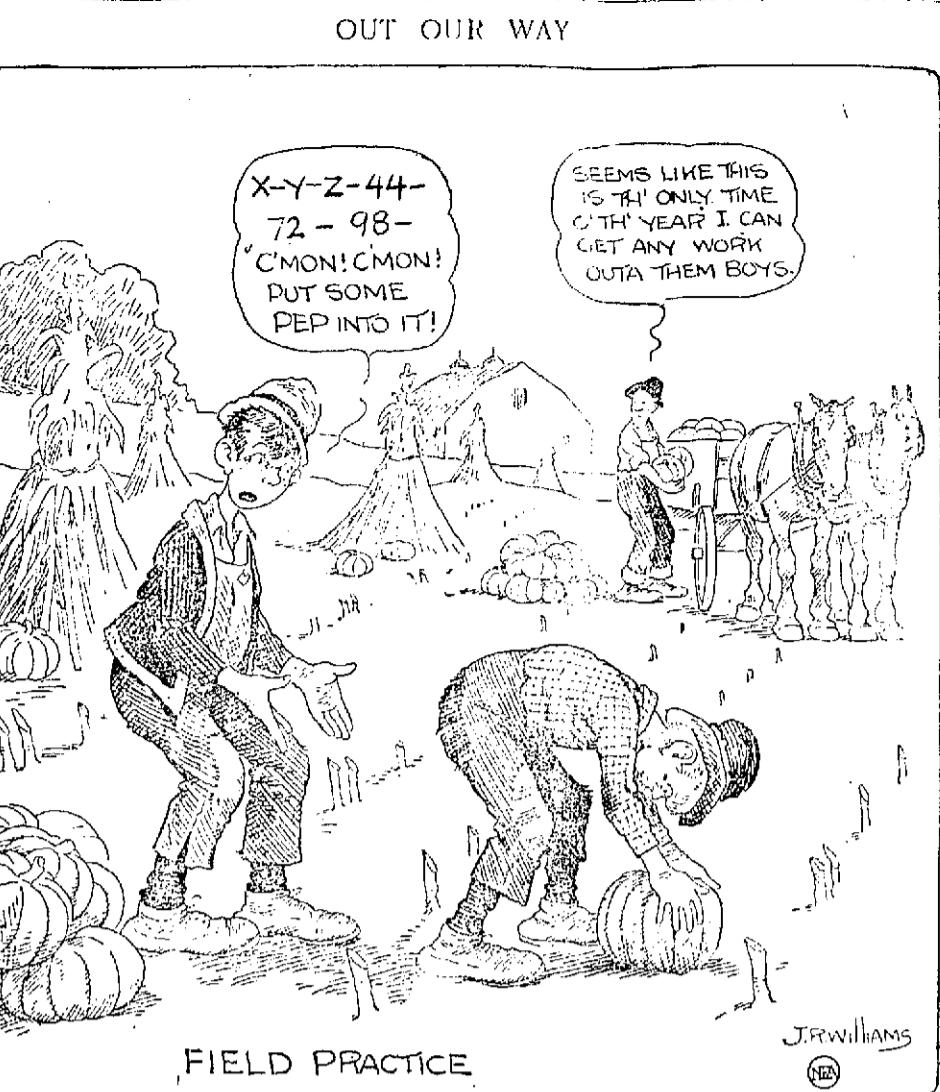

"Another adventure!" cried Nick.

"I told you so!" said Mister Dodger.

"Come! We'll say goodbye to our friends and be going."

Moscow Directed Uprising in Bulgaria

SOFIA, Nov. 1.—The Bulgarian government claims that after an exhaustive study of evidence in their possession, they have established clearly the fact that the recent communist uprising in Bulgaria was both ordered and directed by officers of the Third Internationale in Moscow. This evidence will be used by the government, it is reported, for outlawing the Bulgarian communists party in the same manner that the Serbian communists were outlawed over a year ago. The first result of this action will be to prevent the communists from voting in the elections on Nov. 18.

Municipalities in Britain Held Elections

LONDON, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press) More than 30 municipalities in England and Wales today elect councillors to replace the one third of the total number of representatives who retire annually. The feature of the present contest is the strenuous effort being made by laborites and socialists to retrieve the reversals suffered by them during the past two years and to increase their representations beyond any point which they have hitherto attempted. The main issues upon which they have built their campaign are unemployment and the housing shortage, but as their policy on these questions entails a considerable outlay of public expense they are meeting with hot opposition.

BAD SMASHUP ON THE LOWELL-LAWRENCE BOULEVARD—POLICE SEEK LOWELL MAN

Methuen and Lowell police are today searching for a Lowell man reported to be the driver of an Apperson sedan that collided with a Ford touring car on the Lowell-Lawrence Boulevard, near the leebouses, about 12:30 o'clock this morning. As a result of the collision Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clark of 845 Middlesex street, this city, and John Williams of 56 High street, Lawrence, were removed to the Lawrence General Hospital. Their injuries are not serious, however.

A formal charge has been preferred against the Lowell man that of going away after an accident without making himself known.

Mr. Clark and his wife were driving in the Ford in the direction of Lawrence, when the accident happened, taking Williams and another Lawrence man, William A. Bell, to their homes.

Planning Board Giving Serious Consideration to Two Proposals for New Thoroughfares Across the Concord River

The accompanying diagram is reproduced to show two proposals in the mind of the Planning Board for the relief of downtown traffic and for the creation of a new thoroughfare across the Concord river to run fairly parallel to Central street.

Each of the proposals has its beginning in Davidson street at its start at East Merrimack street. Each would call for a widening to 60 feet, the seizure of much tenement and mill property and the erection of a bridge over the river, one to terminate directly opposite the extension of Davidson street and the other to terminate at the junction of Warren and George streets.

The second proposal, outlined as the lower of the two, would shift off from the present Davidson street to cross the river at a narrower point, making necessary a bridge of about 120 feet in length. This proposal would necessitate the seizure of more mill property than the first one, however, for it would not only pass through the dye house building, but through four other buildings in the main Ipswich group. It would would be possible, although the present bridge takes it only to Warren street, to terminate at the junction of Warren and George streets.

In either case Davidson street would have to be widened by the seizure of tenement property and a part of the brick garage on the east side and another piece of tenement property nearer the river on the west side, the present width of Davidson street is not adequate, engineers say.

This diagram is not large enough to show the proposal submitted by Mayor John J. Donovan, which includes the bridging of the canal which crosses East Merrimack street at the Present Mill and bridge across the canal to the rear of the Strand Theatre building. This proposal also is not large enough to show the planning board for consideration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—W. R. Wadleigh, chief of the coal division of the department of commerce and former federal fuel distributor, and Congressman John Jacob Rogers of Massachusetts will be two of the feature witnesses at the interstate commerce commission hearing relative to railroad rates on anthracite coal in the federal building at Boston tomorrow (Friday). Ulysses Butler, chief examiner for the commission, will preside at the hearing, and J. J. Hickey, chief for the commission's bureau of inquiry, will appear as counsel for the commission. They have held similar hearings at Augusta, Me., and Montpelier, Vt., and will go to Albany, N. Y., from Boston. Congressman Rogers, who has become a recognized authority on the New England fuel situation, plans to make two important points at the hearing, at which he will appear as a result of a letter from Interstate Commerce Commissioner McComb, in general charge of the rate hearings, who said, in effect, that the commission would welcome suggestions from Mr. Rogers.

The two points which Congressman Rogers will make are those:

1. The necessity of a permanent embargo upon the exportation of anthracite.

2. The advisability, in the meantime, of using the rates on anthracite for Canada as a means of holding down exports to that country.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT THREE MEN KIDNAPPED

Lodging House Proprietor Gets One Year for Maintaining House of Ill Fame

Krikos Stephanian, proprietor of a Market street lodging house, from which two girls were taken a week ago last Tuesday and subsequently sentenced to the house of correction for six months each for disorderly conduct, appeared in district court this morning on a charge of maintaining a house of ill fame. He was found guilty and ordered committed to the house of correction for a term of one year. On appeal, he was made to recognize his fault in appearing in superior court.

Officer Thomas Housian, who patrols the Market street route, testified that the place had been complained of to him on Oct. 23. In consequence of the complaint, he went to the house with Officer Daniel Lynch and interviewed a colored woman, who occupied one of the rooms. Officers Conroy and Moore of the vice squad were notified and visited the house a week ago last Tuesday.

Stephanian said he owned the lodging house for one year. He further stated that he recently had trouble with the colored woman who was interviewed by Officers Lynch and Housian and as a result of this trouble, she complained to the officers. He admitted renting a room to the two girls

Lunenburg Boat Jumped Into Lead at Outset and Stayed in Front to Finish

Fishermen's Trophy Remains in Canadian Possession for Another Year

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 1.—The Lunenburg fishing schooner Bluenose, Canadian defender of the international fishermen's trophy, defeated the American schooner Columbia in the second race of the series off this port today and thereby retained the trophy in Canadian possession for another year.

The race was sailed in heavy weather with the wind rising from 18 knots at the start to fully 30 knots, and the boats shot out of the course of about 39 miles in fast time. Bluenose was over the starting line and never was headed. Captain Angus Walters opened up a lead of a mile at one time and all of Captain Ben Pine's strategy could not overcome the handicap.

No time was taken at fourth mark. The Bluenose came about 2:20 and stood on the port tack for the finish when she was one quarter mile ahead of Columbia. The Columbia came about 2:22.

Both schooners were finding the wind full as they turned the finish line at 2:10 p. m. Pine had trouble in setting his staysail and Walters had difficulties at times with his head sail. The schooners were on the starboard tack and would have to make another hitch to make the line. Bluenose, if anything, had increased her lead.

Time at finish—Bluenose, 2:35:02; Columbia, 2:38:48.

Bluenose Get Jump

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 1.—There was a 15 knot wind from the northwest, as Bluenose and Columbia finished the starting gun for the international fishermen's race today.

NAVAL OFFICERS ARE BLAMED

Responsible for Loss of Seven Destroyers—and 23 Lives at Honda Point, Cal.

Charged With "Culpable Inefficiency in Performance of Their Duty"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Fixing the responsibility for the loss of seven destroyers and 23 lives at Honda Point, Calif., September 8, on three officers attached to the destroyer Delphy, the findings of the naval board of inquiry on which a court martial has been ordered, charge them with "culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty." Eight other officers who commanded destroyers in the group which capsized in the rocks after misjudgment of position, will face trial on charge of negligence.

The report of the board, published today, said it saw no "extenuating circumstances" in the case of the squadron commander, Captain Edward H. Watson, the commander of the Delphy. Lieutenant Commander Donald T. Hunter, who was navigating Officer in command, however, was blamed, to excuse him from accepting full responsibility for the accident. It was held to be "directly attributable to bad judgment and faulty navigation" on their part.

For having "too blindly followed the judgment of the squadron commander in failing to check the position of each individual ship, the commanders of the other destroyers, the court found, must be held responsible in a measure. Had correct judgment been displayed on their part, the report said, the equipment of each vessel could have been used to check their position against that ascertained for the Delphy.

The board highly commended the morale shown by the commanding officer in the emergency of the crash, declaring it was due to "this perfect discipline that the loss of life was so small." It cited more than a dozen officers and men whom it thought should be commended by Secretary Denby.

Delay Court Martial

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 1.—At the request of the defendants, the court-martial of 11 officers of the United States navy involved in the wreck of seven destroyers at Point Honda, scheduled to open today, will be delayed for several days.

The officers desire more time to prepare their defense.

HALLOWEEN PERFORMERS
PICK STREET RAILWAY
FOR THE "GOAT"

The boys were out in force last night to celebrate Halloween and, from the testimony offered by the car operators, they found the street railway cars to be the main butt for their operations.

Sup't Thomas J. Sayson reported this morning the following cases where boys had "picked" on the street railway company, in a spirit of fun, and had slightly disrupted the service.

On the Pawtucketville line near the corner of Chase avenue and Mammoth road a buntie was lit and set between the railroad tracks and was hot that the car could not be run over the tracks for several minutes.

A large stone was rolled on the tracks near the Lowell General hospital and required the efforts of several men to move it off the rails.

On the North Chelmsford line, the trolley rope of one car was cut and several trolleys were pulled off the wire.

On the Andover street line, tongs were placed on the tracks and on the Readling line, the boys contented themselves with merely pulling the trolleys down and otherwise interfering with the service.

Police officers were sent out to the points where the boys had been reported but the boys evidently saw them before they were seen and transferred their operations to other districts.

The six arrested in Lawrence were:

Thomas B. Murphy, of 303 Park street; Stephen Burns, of 104 Hampshire st.; George Robbins, of 126 Lowell street; Joseph Drebin, of 429 Common street; and Nicholas Carroll and James Ford, of 55 Common street. They were taken up at the Lawrence police station and held to appear before Commissioner Walsh here tomorrow morning.

The officers ceased their activities in Lawrence after visiting six places because they said other places had been tipped off of impending visits.

ACTIVITIES IN LAWRENCE

Instructions have been received at the postoffice from the postoffice department in Washington urging that an educational campaign by means of posters be carried on here to instruct letter-writers to be careful in placing addresses or letters so that there will be no danger of the letter being returned to the dead letter office undelivered because of the illegibility of the address.

Several posters have been placed in the lobby of the postoffice building in connection with the campaign urging everyone to co-operate with the postal authorities by writing the address on the envelope plainly and also by writing a return address in the upper left-hand corner of the envelope.

During the past year several hundred thousand letters were sent to the dead letter office undelivered because the address on the envelope was not written legibly. In these letters was found over $100,000 that the post-office department could not return because there was no return address on the envelope or on the letter inside the envelope.

In cases where letters containing money are to be sent through the mails, the sender is requested to register the letter so that in case it is not delivered it may be returned to him.

Lloyd George in New York—Matthes Declares Only Free, Completes 6000-Mile Tour of U. S. and Canada

Will Deliver Final Address in Metropolitan Opera House Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press) David Lloyd George, Britain's war premier, has ended his six thousand mile tour of the United States and Canada. He arrived in New York last night, went to the home of John W. Davis, former ambassador to the Court of St. James, in Lenox Valley, L. I., and made final preparations for his two final addresses in this country. The first will be delivered at the Lotos club tonight and the second at the Metropolitan Opera House tomorrow night.

Mr. Lloyd George, although free from any public engagements until tonight, will not rest today. He planned to pass the morning attending to personal affairs, and later, if he could spare the time, to visit the grave of Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and call on Mrs. Roosevelt at her home there.

Arrival of the former premier last night was without incident. There was a small crowd of admirers in the Hoboken station of the Lackawanna Railroad where his special train arrived a few minutes before 8 o'clock. Elaborate police arrangements had been made and the station was closely guarded. It was denied, however, that this precaution was taken because of threatening letters Mr. Lloyd George was said to have received presumably from Irish republican sympathizers. The only demonstration was a friendly one.

Poincare Says Germany Forced Into Systematically Organized Bankruptcy

Certain Classes Reduced to Officials Fee Present Movement May Dissolve Itself Within Few Weeks

NEVEAUX, France, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press) Unless there is some indication soon that efforts to establish an independent Rhineland state have the support of the general population, the present separatist movement may dissolve of itself within a few weeks, it was said today in official circles which are closely in touch with all developments.

Several proposals for compromise already have been advanced, it is understood. One of these provides for an autonomous state but Joseph Matthes, premier of the provisional government of the Rhineland republic, asserts he will not consider any such proposal.

In conclusion, he defined the scope of the inquiry of experts appointed by the separation commission by stating that it must only deal with Germany's present capacity to pay.

FOOTBALL DATE CHANGED

Principal Henry Harris of the Lowell high school announced this morning that the date of the Haverhill football game has been definitely changed from Saturday, Nov. 10, to Monday, Nov. 12, Armistice day. This day has been set aside in Haverhill as a holiday and the game between the high school teams is the only event of any consequence, so that a larger crowd is expected. Exercises will be held in observance of the day in the local high school and the student body will be dismissed early, to allow them time to get down to the game. The team is being put through a stiff course of training for this game and with the record made so far this year, it is expected that Lowell will show the boys down the river a better brand of football than has been the case for many years.

erred that it was locked. Returning, his suspicions were aroused by a man running hastily from the same door-way. The officer halted the man, and then tried the lock of the door and found it yielded to his touch. Upon entering the store the officer smelled smoke and discovered a small blaze in the corner.

While he was investigating, Officer Lynch appeared on the scene and saw another man, giving the name of Henry Brady, dashing for a nearby fire box. He started in pursuit, thinking the man was implicated in the affair. Brady, however, told him that he was simply walking by and seeing the blaze, destined to summon apparatus.

When the department arrived on the scene, the blaze was easily extinguished. Paper and clothings, saturated with gasoline, were found where the fire was discovered.

Police investigation this morning disclosed the fact that the store is insured for $2000, the latest policy, one of $200 having been taken out last week. It was also brought to light that the lease on the property ran out last night.

SISTINE CHAPEL CHOIR

Program of Church Music at Auditorium Best Ever Heard in This City

The Sistine Chapel choir from the Vatican at Rome, visited Lowell last night on its American tour and before a fair sized audience at the Memorial Auditorium gave a program of church music that was the finest of its type ever heard in the city. This group of 34 singers, the identical choir which sings at the Vatican on all great occasions and feast days of the church, gave splendid examples of classic polyphony which ran back as far as the 15th century and added compositions of more modern writers that were exquisitely planned and beautifully sung under the guiding hand of Monsignor Antonio Rella, the choir conductor, himself a venerable churchman who has seen two score years of service in Rome.

A pity it was that the Auditorium was not taxed in its seating capacity, for the program was one which deserved most generous patronage. It was unfortunate that the night of Halloween called so many people elsewhere and then, too, for some unexplainable reason there had been propaganda in circulation to the effect that this was not the real Sistine Chapel choir. Nothing could have been more absurd than an assumption that this great body of churchmen would parade under false banners.

In volume, in color, in rhythmic movement and in clarity of tone the choir attained great heights of accomplishment. They had no piano or organ to guide them and no tuning fork to give them pitch, but so perfectly trained are they that their singing is well nigh faultless. Many of their numbers were painted in brilliant colors of tone, while others, as called for by the texts, were whispered in deep reverence. From beginning to end the choir justified its advance notices and gave a program that will remain unique throughout the season.

The program opened with a greeting to the American people, a short brilliant symphony of sound which seemed to link the old world with the new. Then followed "Veni, Tu Es Petrus," an elaborate setting built about the words, "Thou art Peter." The "30 Salvatores Hostis" by the same composer, is perhaps the most delicate and exquisite number which the Sistine sings. It was rendered in a devout, whisper and Monsignor Rella brought out the choir's capabilities most admirably.

The choir went back to the 16th century Palestrina for the next number, "Mandate Dominum," a splendid model of classic polyphony. Here the voices rose modestly in the heights or high registers, suggestive of the Creator's infinite power and then dropped away to effective pianissimo upon the words, "and on earth."

The "Benedictus Qui Venit" had to be repeated. While brief it was beautifully sung, stunning effect being secured in the "Hosanna in Excelsis."

The choir gave "Paradisus" "Alleluia" just as it was given in the original rendition at St. Peter's when the singers were divided with soprano, alto, tenor and bass forming the principal choir and first and second tenors, baritone and bass, the echo choir. The balcony front was used as the echo choir and the effect produced was remarkable. The composition interpreted admirably both in its melody and mass. Few the feelings of triumphant jubilation that are the keynote of the psalms from which the verses are taken.

After a brief intermission the program continued with "Domine Jesu Christe," "Tota Pulchra Es," "Ave Maris" and "Exultate deo" (Palestrina). The final number also had to be repeated and yet the audience would not leave until the original greetings to the American people had again been sung.

The choir combines a real ability to sing, with adequate balance and splendid training, and the results attained have made it one of the world's most famous musical organizations.

SPEEDING AUTO HIT PAINT POT IN ROAD

GREENFIELD, Nov. 1.—Somewhere in New York state today a tourist party is proceeding westward in an automobile destroyer in the World war, plane destroyer in the World war. Heres the reason why.

Frank Everett, a painter employed by the Massachusetts highway commission was painting safety lines on the Mohawk Trail yesterday and had a large paint pot standing in the middle of the road. A fast travelling car came along and Everett got out of the way but could not remove his paint pot in time. When the front bumper of the car struck the color contained in it splashed up in the air, its contents being thrown over the car in a camouflaged pattern. The remarks of the owner and driver could not be heard as he flew past but they were doubtless interesting.

the course only slightly over par. His performance at a first game was the talk of the town.

It develops, however, that Bill has been putting one over on his labor friends. Every summer for years he has been taking a two month vacation, and going to French Lick Springs. There he took instructions under a golf professional and played with Tom Taggart at the course there.

Explaining his action, Bill said: "I'll let these labor guys here know I was playing golf, they'd 'n murdered me an' thrown me outta every union I belonged to. So I kept it quiet. Now, however, everybody plays golf, including the biggest rough-necks along the New Orleans river front. So I felt perfectly safe in comin' out into th' open an' showin' th' boys how a real golfer can shoot it."

Your Health

by Dr. C. C. Robinson
(Fats)

FOODS THAT MAKE BLOOD

The fats form the third group in the foods that are a necessary requirement for the upkeep and health of your body. In the actual order of use, they probably rank second, the carbohydrates being first and the proteins third as regards percentage value in calories.

You will remember that in the fuel foods consisting of starch, fat and sugar, fat is also second, the place and value as a food in making blood for body burning tissue is therefore well defined.

Some people are real enemies of fat. Yet fat as a food, not as surplus non-working tissue, is absolutely essential to normal bodily health and growth. If your body does not receive some food rich in fats it will burn up. The tissues will be drawn upon to supply the deficiency. You will be thin, undernourished and weak in disease resistance.

There are some foods, rich in fats, which will help to build tissue for fuel.

Butter, cream and cheese are in the front rank. Roast beef, roast pork and ham are runners up. Spinach, the great regulator, is rich in fat; eat it whether you like it or not. Onions well cooked come second to spinach in the vegetable list. In 100 calories of onions, 40 per cent is fat food.

Baked beans are still good as ever. If they don't interfere with your digestion, they are a good fat producing food used once or twice a week.

Pens and string beans are also excellent. Cheap fats are oleomargarine and cotton seed oil.

Potato chips contain 63 per cent fat. Milk shares its value as a food material in good proportion, containing 52 per cent fat, 29 per cent carbohydrates and 19 per cent protein.

It is well to learn and practice economy in buying food. But one should always remember that there is no better economy than the conservation of one's working power. I wish that the millions of our people, who are forced through necessity to live within well defined cost limitations, could in some way acquire the knowledge by which they would thoroughly know and be able to select, from these three great groups, a proper nourishing diet. The positive health program so many newspapers with the aid of scientists and physicians are carrying out, at the present time, will help to a marked degree in bringing this about.

New Starch Discovery Preserves Your Dainty Garments

FREQUENT washing is the hardest thing in the world on clothes. Perhaps the chief reason clothes soil so readily is that they are not protected by starch, or else the proper kind of starch has not been used.

Thousands of housewives now starching with Linit, are giving their fabrics protection from wear and tear.

New Starch Discovery

THIS remarkable starch is made by an improved process that keeps it fluid after it cools. You are never troubled with clotting, smearing or "blistering." Linit penetrates every thread of the fabric, helps prevent wear, and strengthens the material.

Linit gives ordinary cotton goods an attractive linen finish and your Linit-starched garments remain clean and fresh much longer.

Important to you

AFTER Linit is thoroughly dissolved, according to directions and ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE WATER—with a "milky" appearance. Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and, unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is one reason why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches and is easier to iron with.

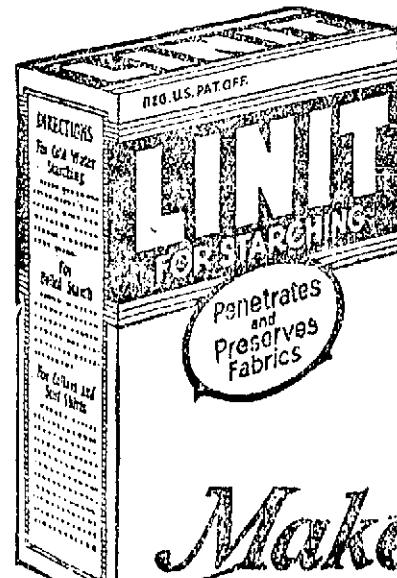

Linit costs 10c at all grocers

Get a package and begin the modern way of starching your fabrics. Perfection in starching guaranteed or your money refunded.

Linit is made by the Corn Products Refining Company—makers of the famous Argo Starch—Karo Syrup and Mazola Salad and Cooking Oil.

SEVEN INDICTED FOR USING MAIIS TO DEFRAUD THOUSANDS OF INVESTORS OUT OF MILLIONS

Under Cover of Disguised Firm Names

Same Group is Said to Have Operated for Years—Lowell Among Many New England Cities Where Swindling Scheme Was Carried Out

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Charged with using the mails to defraud thousands of investors of millions of dollars in the last four years, seven members of a four bankrupt brokerage houses were indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday. Operations of the brokers are said to have extended throughout New England, New Jersey and New York.

Under the cover of disguised firms, the same group is said to have operated for years, converting to its own use, money received for investment, then forcing dissolution of one concern, with heavy losses to investors and organizing another to carry on the same business.

An investigation of the four defuncts "All of those indicted seemed to regard New England as their particular field," the federal attorneys disclosed the swindling scheme started. "No sooner did one of their group resume the operations under different names.

"In this way they continued doing business year after year. Maintaining headquarters in New York, they opened branches in Boston, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Adams, North Adams, New Bedford, Springfield, Worcester, Southbridge, Pittsfield, Greenfield, Holyoke and Northampton, Mass., Derby, New Haven, Bridgeport, Waterbury, Stamford, Ansonia and Norwich, Conn., Nashua and Keene, N. H., Providence, Pawtucket and Woonsocket, R. I. Offices also were maintained in Atlantic City, Trenton and Newark, N. J., and the establishment of half a dozen or more branches in Vermont and New Hampshire was contemplated, according to the district attorney.

While the government is empowered only to prosecute the defendants criminally, Mr. Hayward said, evidence developed during the investigation indicated that civil action might be brought against Field and Morse.

NEEDED TO BE HELPED UP STAIRS

Typical Anemic Condition Corrected
by the Use of Tonic Treatment
In Hartford

The "stair case test" is a term used in diagnosing anemia or bloodlessness because in this disease such slight exercise as walking upstairs causes breathlessness, palpitation of the heart and exhaustion.

The case of Mrs. Adell Courtney, of No. 33 Buckingham street, Hartford, Conn., had the characteristic symptoms. She says:

"The doctors said that I was in an anemic condition, that I had too little blood. I was as white as death and was so weak I could hardly walk. It was impossible for me to go upstairs without getting short of breath and finally I had to be helped. I had palpitation of the heart and at times it beat so that it scared me. My nerves were shattered. I did not get much benefit from the medicines I took until finally I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and tried them."

"Soon I began to have some color and felt my strength returning. The heart fluttering ceased and soon I felt like a new person. My appetite returned and I ate well. My nerves got stronger and I gained in weight. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were just what I needed and I have great faith in them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. In this way the general health is improved the appetite increases, the digestion is strengthened and new ambition and energy developed. Work becomes easier because it does not cause exhaustion. Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist's today or write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., enclosing 60 cents and a box will be sent you, postpaid. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," which explains the treatment, will be sent free on request.—Adv.

As appointed by Governor Cox, the commission consists of Frank H. Fitzgerald, former insurance commissioner; Mrs. Willis C. Dwight of Hyde Park; Charles J. Mahoney of Boston; HOYT Robbins of Brookline and Prof. A. A. Young of Harvard college.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe. The folks are again using it to give their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we all know, the hair is when youthful appearance is at the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the sulpher compound. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply medicate your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, so that hair is beautifully darkened the hair after a few applications of the product that is so full and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.

HALLOWEEN MADE JOYOUS OCCASION IN THIS CITY—MANY PARTIES IN VARIOUS SECTIONS

It was a tired, but happy and satisfied crowd of youngsters who crept in under the blankets last night, after first removing the traces of burnt cork and grease paint from their faces and shedding their grotesque garments in which they had paraded and made merry through the streets earlier in the evening. For Halloween it theirs by right, they consider, the one night in which they may adorn themselves in wild and woolly garb, or in the shroud of a ghost on pleasure bent.

And there were the usual pranks, of course, but in general the kiddies behaved themselves fairly well and did not give the authorities much trouble. In some places they overstepped the bounds and tied up traffic by stringing a rope across the street and broke a few windows besides. But the great majority of youngsters were merely out for fun and did not resort to any violence to sat it.

While the kiddies were having their fun outside, their older brothers and sisters, and in many instances their mothers and fathers, were having their fun at the numerous Halloween dinner parties and dances. Like the kiddies, many of the older ones also garbed themselves in comedy costumes and threw restraint to the winds. Pleasure with a capital P was what everyone was looking for last night, and on the whole it was an evening of satisfaction for all.

ANNUAL HALLOWEEN PARTY AT C. Y. M. L.

The annual Halloween party of the C.Y.M.L. was held last night in Associate hall and proved to be one of the most successful events of its kind held in the city last night. The attendance was unusually large and every one joined in celebrating the night in a characteristic way.

The hall was decorated in orange and black, pennons of these colors being strung from the centre chandelier to the corners of the hall and draperies of the same colors being hung from the balconies.

Dancing was started shortly after 8 o'clock and continued until midnight, with an intermission at 10:30 o'clock. Several novelty dances were given during the evening and favors appropriate of the day were given the participants of the day were given the participants.

Henry Sullivan, the conqueror of the English channel, was scheduled to give a short talk during the intermission but was detained in New York where he took part in an Elks' charity entertainment.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of the following: John W. Guiney, chairman; John F. Murphy, treasurer; James P. Saunders, secretary; James J. Nevin, John J. Plummer, Harold B. Sullivan, William Monahan, Patrick Brady, Joseph Hession, Cleon O'Neill, and John J. Mahoney. The others of the dance were John H. Mahoney, general manager; John W. McGuinness, assistant general manager; James P. Saunders,

ST. PETER'S GIRLS' CLUB HAS PARTY

Over 200 members and friends of St. Peter's Girls' club enjoyed themselves at a Halloween party which was given last evening in St. Peter's school hall. The feature of the evening was the presentation of a minstrel show under the direction of Miss Anna Galvin. Miss Helen Guthrie proved to be an capable interlocutor while the "bands" were well sustained by Misses Esther Duggan, Ruth McDermott, Anna Gardner and Mary Hickey. Along with the minstrel show were recitations by Miss Rose McLaughlin. Miss Anna Donahue was the accompanist of the evening and her numbers were well in keeping with the evening's program. The hall was gayly decorated with Halloween colors and made a fine setting for the games, show and dancing. A buffet luncheon was served during the course of the evening. Those in charge of the event were the Misses Amelia Mello, Anna Lawler, Grace Sheehan, Anna Hickey, Florence Crowe, Margaret Donahue, Esther McDermott, Marguerite Shugrue, Mary Hickey, Florence Regnier, Rose McLaughlin, Helen Guthrie, Agnes Nellen, Lillian McDermott, Ella Mulligan, Veronica Sullivan, Agnes Madden, Susan Campbell, Anna Galvin, Susan Pinican and Lena Gendron.

HALLOWEEN PARTY IN MIDDLESEX HALL

The school children of the foreign clubs of the International Institute were given a Halloween party in Middlesex hall, Palmer street, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. About 150 girls, garbed in Halloween costumes with paper hats to match, made merry in the hall, which was decorated with appropriate colors. Streamers hung from the chandeliers to the posts about the room. In the windows and informing the doors were black cats and witches.

During the course of the afternoon games and stunts were enjoyed and apples and jack-o'-lanterns were served. In the evening at 5 o'clock the older girls of the foreign clubs were given a party. About 200 attended and a merry time was enjoyed by all. Each club presented a stunt and all proved quite interesting and amusing. The Lithuanian girls presented "The Tragedy of Flinty-haired Ann," and a comical tragedy it was. The Golden Rule club, presented a vaudeville stunt which was most entertaining. The Athenaeum club, composed of Greek girls, gave a Wild West presentation, while the White Eagle club, composed of Polish girls, pictured a Polish wedding. Miss Dorothy Beck furnished the music for the evening. Following the stunts various games were played including newspaper relay races, apple ducking and various other Halloween games. General dancing followed the games. Refreshments were also served. Those in charge of the affair were: Miss Fern Graden, secretary of the International Institute; Miss Lucille Shirley, secretary of girls work of the Y.W.C.A.; Miss Valeria Bierhorst, Polish worker; Miss Constance Cechowicz, Greek worker of the International Institute; Miss Marguerite Woodbury and Miss Helen Munro.

ENJOYABLE PARTY IN LIBERTY HALL

His letter follows: "Burns Avenue, Winchester, Ky., I had severe rheumatism for three months; tried several remedies without receiving any benefit whatever. A friend advised me to try ALLENHUE as it had cured him. I bought three bottles from the Georgia Drug Co., this city. When I began taking this medicine I was unable to do any work. I could neither dress myself nor raise my hand to comb my hair. I am now almost well and feel confident this last of the three bottles I am now taking will completely cure me. I can cheerfully recommend this truly wonderful remedy to any rheumatic sufferer." Signed ASA E. Keer.

ALLENHUE has been tried and tested for years and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Physicians guaranteed the best price to show appreciable results or money back in every instance. All drugists can supply you.—Adv.

How I Was Wrecking the Lives of My Children

And Suffering Indescribable Tortures Myself Day and Night. A Mother's Terrible Confession.

For some time I had noticed that my two children, a boy of seven and a girl of ten, were becoming highly nervous, irritable and very disobedient. I tried various punishments, even whippings, but they kept growing worse. My own nerves were all on edge; I was too weak to work or enjoy life, and too nervous and irritable to go anywhere. I often suffered from severe heart palpitation and indigestion. I could not sleep at night; I had an almost constant dull aching pain in the back of my neck and head, and frequently a very disagreeable sense of fatigue. In the open part of my head, I often had severe pains across my back which made me think I had kidney trouble, could not begin to describe all the tortured and terrible pains which I endured.

Finally I went to a doctor and told him my trouble. After a long examination he was the cause of my wife's deep condition. He told me how the system only manufactured so much nerve force and that this vital fluid of life was stored in the nerve cells, much like electricity is stored in a storage battery and is just as quickly exhausted.

He said my own high nervous condition had been a constant drain on the nerve force of my children, and that the constant nervous strain to which I had subjected them had wrecked their sensitive nervous organizations. Later all this I found out to be true, because after I regained my own nervous force, and revitalized my worn-out, exhausted nerve centers, and the same was done for my children. I found them to be the neatest, sweetest children in the world, their whole dispositions entirely changed.

The above is a hypothetical case, as Dr. Kilmer's physician says, may well hold true in many cases today.

Women are wrecked, children ruined, through exhausted nerve force. Very few people realize the terrible physical and mental tortures often caused by a depletion of the nerve-vital fluid.

In such cases what you need is to put more force into your nerves and more nerve fluid. This is best accomplished by the use of Nettie Rowe's this valuable product contains the perfectly balanced combination of active hydrogen nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the nerve and brain cells of man.

It also contains orange iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in wheat germ, citrus and apples. This form of iron with its active hydrogen does not upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take. Sustained iron may therefore be termed both a blood and a nerve food.

Over four million people are using Nettie Rowe's Iron and Citrus, and from the manufacturer's records it is known that the manufacturers feel as certain of its efficacy that they guarantee satisfactory results to every pur-

An occasional dose of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN Keeps young girls fit

False Modesty Wrecks Health

THE young lady just assuming the responsibilities of a woman is very apt to be self-conscious of her physical functions, and in consequence neglect them. There is no time, however, when it is more important for her to look after them. Chief among her troubles is constipation, and her suffering will be serious when she gets older if she does not regulate her bowels well.

Mrs. Mary Keller of 132 Benton St., Sisterville, W. Va., was perplexed about her daughter until her own druggist told her they used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi in his house, and she did likewise. Miss Irene Mazierska of 90 Peter St., Buffalo, N. Y., is glad her attention was called to Syrup Pepsi.

Safe for Young and Old

Let mothers with growing daughters interest themselves in this matter and see that their judgment is enforced.

A rule followed by many is to take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi once a week until the bowels function daily, and at such other times as there is headache, biliousness, sores and

MR. WELLS MAKES TRAFFIC SUGGESTION

As a means of averting part of the congestion in the square when there is an attraction at the Memorial Auditorium, Secretary Manager George F. Wells of the chamber of commerce makes two suggestions.

The first is that a block system of handling traffic on the main streets, similar to that used on Fifth avenue in New York city, be installed here and that one traffic officer, preferably the one located in the square, direct the traffic on all streets near the square by means of those signals. Mr. Wells does not believe that such a system would be costly and believes that under it traffic would be handled with considerably greater speed. Under this system it would be necessary to have traffic officers wherever the signals were installed to see that motorists obeyed the signals and to assist in straightening out any jam that might occur.

His second suggestion is also one that he believes would not be costly. It is that the alley back of the Fairburn building and the one between Keith's theatre and the Massachusetts storehouse be used as a one-way street northerly whenever there is an attraction at the Auditorium and that all traffic bound for Centralville be compelled to use this route.

Just because you start the day tired, listless, worn-out from loss of rest and the difficult breathing of miserable asthma do not think you have to stay this way long.

Be strong and well, breathe clearly and easily again by using this simple treatment known as Oxidaze, the prescription of a Worcester, Mass., physician.

For any form of Asthma where the bronchial tubes are irritated, the breathing short and difficult, its healing, relieving action is really wonderful. Sufferers who can't breathe at night and who can't get a good, clear breath, will appreciate the relief and comfort Oxidaze gives.

Oxidaze is a tablet made from essential oils which, when the patient dissolves in the mouth, almost immediately soothes the irritation, clears out the choked up air passages and enables the sufferer to breathe easily and get a full, comfortable night's sleep.

It is sold by leading physicians, including Green's drug store and Liggett's who agree to refund the full purchase price of the first package to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief. Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidaze a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.—Adv.

DEFENCE OPENS IN DANCE HALL CASE

The plaintiff's side of the case of Bechard et al. vs. Morin was concluded at this morning's session of superior court before Judge Quin and jury, and Attorney Albert S. Howard then opened for the defense.

Further testimony of a technical nature was offered by Attorney E. J. Tierney, who spoke this morning concerning certain of the structures of the dance hall on the Lawrence boulevard, the collapse of which is the cause of action in the present case.

Attorney Howard in his opening paid some attention to the Lowell building ordinances and Assistant City Clerk McCarthy was called to testify to these ordinances. It is the claim of the building that the plans of the building were not in accordance with the building laws, but that they had been approved by the building inspector.

The defendant demands were formulated at a caucus of the party yesterday, at which it adopted a resolution declaring the party could remain in the coalition government only on these conditions: Abolition of the military state of emergency; treatment by the government of the Bavarian government's attitude as a breach of the constitution; and the immediate taking of the necessary steps against Bavaria; giving over to the police the maintenance of law and order in Saxony; and the disbanding of the supporters of nationalistic aspirations who recently joined the reichswehr.

The defense will call a number of expert witnesses, and an attempt will be made to qualify certain witnesses as storm experts, as the defense claims that the collapse of the building was due to a large storm on November 1.

DENIES ILL TREATMENT OF IRISH PRISONERS

DUBLIN, Nov. 1.—An explanation of the alleged reports of the ill treatment of prisoners, was made yesterday before the Dail by Richard Mulcahy, minister of defense, who declared the charges were part of a general campaign of propaganda based on necessary disciplinary measures.

The prisoners in Mountjoy prison had gradually built up a military censorship, he said, which prevented individual prisoners who desired to sign a guarantee, which would secure their release from getting in touch with the prison governor. He charged that when disciplinary action was taken the prisoners mutinied and assailed the police with iron bolts, necessitating the calling in of the military, who fired warning shots over the prisoners' heads.

When the prisoners refused to leave their cells to go to the exercise grounds they were either dragged out or had the fire hose turned on them.

After being forced out to the grounds, Mulcahy said, they set fire to the furniture and as a result, were left outside all night, the weather be-

Eversharp is a worker, a business pencil—America's favorite. It keeps going day after day with no other alteration than an occasional loading. Many people carry two—one with black lead, one with the new colored lead.

Eversharp is comfortable to hold. It never tires the hand because it is perfectly balanced. The lead never wobbles—the exclusive rifled tip grips it like a vise. You know when to put in a new lead—the automatic index tells how much is left in the barrel. New leads are found under the cap. So is the handy eraser. Eversharp features can't be copied.

EXPECT 80,000 TO WITNESS THE YALE-ARMY FOOTBALL BATTLE

Pitching Aces Failed in Series

HOYT

BY BILLY EVANS
The uncertainty of baseball produces many unusual angles. Never was this truth better illustrated than in the 1923 world series. Let me explain.

For the start of the series it turned out one pitcher that Miller Huggins banked on more than any other member of his staff; it was White Hoyt. The big right-hander of the Yankees is known as a great money pitcher at his best in a pinch. Hoyt has a world of stuff and just as much courage.

In the camp of the Giants, John Watson was regarded with great favor. Watson, the pitcher who had been entrusted with winning the all important game in the final series with the Cincinnati Reds, loomed up as McGraw's pitching ace.

Just before the opening of the series I was chatting with Hank Gowdy, veteran catcher of the Giants. To Justice Watson he remarked: "He has good stuff and a peculiar style that always puzzles club facing him for the first time."

Opening Game Selections
Just what the rival managers thought of Watson and Hoyt can be gleaned from the fact that the pair were the pitching selections for the first game.

The opening game in a world series is considered all-important, a much desired edge. Both pitchers warmed up well. I umpired at the plate in that game and both seemed to have plenty of stuff.

Watson lasted three innings in which the Yanks ticked him for three runs through consistent hitting. His rather peculiar side arm delivery didn't seem to have any terrors for the Yanks. Hoyt breezed through three innings without any trouble, in an American legend.

ELIS FACE FIRST TEST AGAINST OPPOSITION OF RECOGNIZED STRENGTH ON SATURDAY

Record Crowd Expected to Jam Yale Bowl for Colorful Gridiron Contest—Upon Outcome Will Depend Yale's Hope for Long Awaited "Yale Year"

TWO COL SPORTS ELIS
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The largest single gathering of football fans this season, 30,000 persons, probably will witness the Army and Yale contest in their colorful gridiron annual at Yale Bowl next Saturday.

That contest ranks with the Dartmouth-Cornell, the Syracuse-Penn State and the Lafayette-Washington & Jefferson games in general interest for it marks Yale's first test against opposition of recognized strength. Upon its outcome will depend Yale's hope for the long awaited "Yale year" in football.

Thus far this season that hope has been lost and encouraged by the Duke, who won five games, and their play against Brown last week led to statements from Brown players that Yale is 40 per cent stronger than in 1922. That 1922 Elis team played a 7 to 7 tie with the Cadets.

The Army has suffered one defeat this year. That came in its Notre Dame contest, but at the Gators' whipsaw Princeton last week, taken by a large margin, and last week piled up a 5-0 win over the hopelessly strung Georgia Tech eleven, few regard the Army's single defeat as indication of real weakness.

Except in four positions, the Cadet team is made up of players who participated in last season's deadlock battle and who, in consequence, are familiar with Yale's standard formation and the individual strength or weaknesses of many of the Yale players.

Filling one of the vacated positions is "Tiny" Hewett, former Pittsburgh fullback, who had added strength to that position last fall. The Army's new wings, however, have shown less strength than was displayed in that department last season.

Yale has undergone many changes since 1922. Only three first string veterans of 1922 were lost through graduation yet of the eight returning regulars, five will be missing from the Elis lineup Saturday. Charlie O'Hearn had been suspended by Army and George Miller, Noellinger and Neale have been ousted by the substitutes or freshmen last season.

Carl Mays is done

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Pitcher Carl Mays, once star pitcher of the New York Yankees, the player who almost disrupted the American League, is certain to be a member of the American organization before the opening of next season. The fat contract that Mays had with the club ran out at the close of the 1922 season. In all probability he will be used as trading material.

His loss to the club was the most decisive feature of his pitching, was the cause of his lack of effectiveness this year.

SHEVLIN MAY ATTEND

Possibility of N. E. Champ Witnessing Tansey-Avila Bout Here Tonight

Eddie Shevlin, New England welter-weight champion, who is to meet George Ward in Boston tomorrow night, is expected to head the Roxbury delegation that will come to Lowell tonight to root for Young Tansey, who clashes with Johnny Avila of Lowell in the main event of the Moody Club card.

Shevlin worked out every afternoon this week with Tansey and he holds the latter in high regard. In fact, Eddie is of the firm opinion that his fellow boxer, whom one day had the crowd, which he now possesses. Those who have seen Shevlin and Tansey in action in the gymnasium declare the pair but up about as brilliant an exhibition as one would care to look upon.

Close friends of Tansey aver that it will not be long before Tansey, the champion, will be able to give Shevlin the teacher a lesson. This has happened before in boxing and those in the know feel confident history will repeat itself in this instance. However, for the present the Roxbury pair are pals.

Avila is not worrying over the fact that Shevlin is training Tansey. Shevlin worked out with Johnny Smart formerly in the person of Johnny Clinton, and he feels confident that he will be able to excite some of Clinton's stuff this evening.

The bout being at catch weights, Avila was not worried over getting down to any stipulated mark and this fact helped him greatly. Avila concedes Tansey's superior boxing skill but he maintains he totes a heavier punch.

In the semi-final, Johnny Duffy will meet Benny O'Neil. George Steele, brother of Nate will tackle Tony Bartell of Boston in a six-rounders, with Ray Bancourt and Fred Coyle, both of Lawrence, carded for the other.

PONIES TO PLAY INDIAN SECONDS ON SATURDAY

As both the high school and textile school football squads will be playing out of town next Saturday, local fans will turn their attention to Abington field where the Ponies and Indian Seconds will engage in their second battle of the season. The two teams met in an early season encounter on the Lakeview Avenue grounds, the game ending in the Ponies by a close score after four hectic periods of play.

Since that first encounter, there has been considerable winning on the part of the Ponies, but the Indian Seconds have not been beaten in the last four contests.

Now the Ponies mean to make their mark again and the Indian Seconds are determined to stop them.

Both teams will enter the game evenly matched and with a strong desire to make a victory for their respective schools.

The Indian Seconds have not done bad since and that was in the early part of the season. They have been steadily improving and are now considered to be in the top rank.

SPIT BALL PASSES

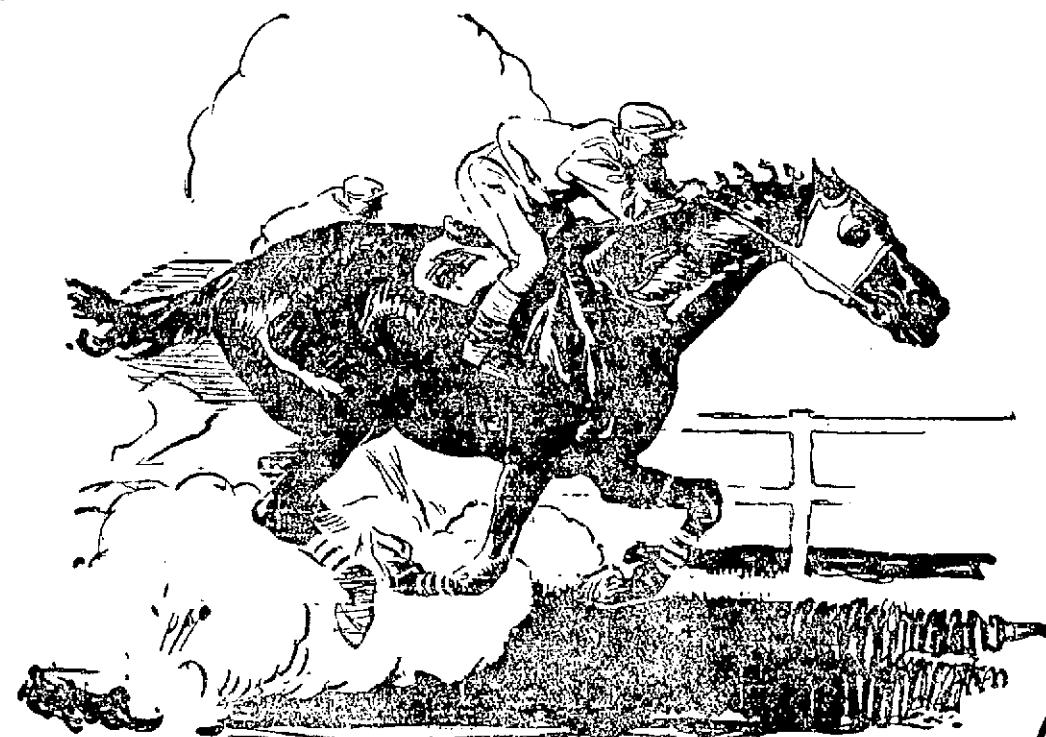

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—The day of the spitball pitcher is fast passing. In the American League, Eddie Fisher and Stanley Patek are the only ones of the clubs still continuing to show the original and fearsome effect of the spitball.

A sure arm and a good Cleveland ball out of the game for the last six weeks of the season and last Cleveland second place. Fisher was also hitting during the electric month yet he came through with a wild pitched game in the Chicago series, beating the Cubs.

Come on, you —

By the Veteran Motorist

A WEEK ago last Saturday I drove down to Belmont Park, where I saw Zev and Papyrus race for the International Cup. It was a great sight, and the better horse won. What marvelous strength and power each of the thoroughbreds displayed, as their skillful jockeys rated them along. Papyrus just hanging at his rival's quarters. Even my staid old heart beat the faster. Then came the swing around the turn into the stretch, when Sande literally unleashed the great Zev, and he thundered home five full lengths in the lead.

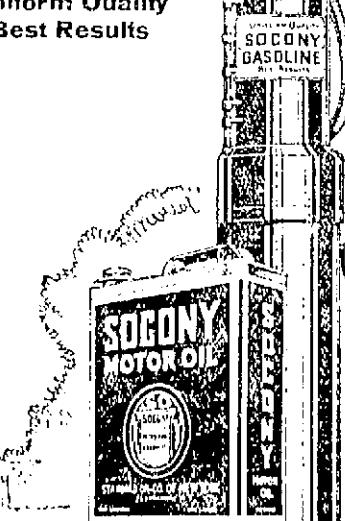

As I drove home through the welter of traffic, never getting lost in the shuffle, always swift in the get-away, quick on the pick-up, I could not but compare the Socony I was using with the great race I had just witnessed.

Socony Gasoline is a stout-hearted fuel. Like Zev, it has the stamina to run the long race and come home a winner. Like a thoroughbred, it is quick as a flash to start, has marvelous pick-up, and endless reserve of sustained power.

Any driver, whether of a big truck or a light sedan, can count on getting the utmost out of Socony Gasoline, especially when used in combination with Socony Motor Oil.

VETERAN BALL STAR DEAD TEXTILE SCHOOL TEAMS

Jimmy Ryan of Old White Stockings Was Related to Lowell Family

Jimmy Ryan, the veteran ball player who died in Chicago on Monday, was well and favorably known in Lowell. He was a nephew of Mrs. Elizabeth Mahan, widow of the first and first cousin of Police Officer John Mahan and Jimmy Mahan, veteran boxer. He also left other relatives here.

Ryan was a member of Pop Anson's famous old White Stockings in the '80s. He was an outfielder. He threw with his left, but batted from the right side of the plate. He was a whizbat and a sure catcher. He fielded while his heavy and timely hits broke up many games. Ryan started his baseball career at Holy Cross college, going there from Clinton where he resided at that time.

Patrick Mahan, father of Jack and Jimmy, recognized in Young Ryan a coming star and on his recommendation he was given his chance in his league baseball. He made good immediately.

Ryan played with the White Stockings for many years but finished his major league career as a member of the Washington team where he was a teammate of Ty Cobb. Ryan also played with and against Billy Morris, the local veteran big league catcher.

TO DEVELOP CHALLENGER FOR JACK DEMPSEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Heavyweight title contenders will hold the center of interest here during the next few days.

Jack Bonatti, Canadian bantam and Floyd Johnson, young Iowan, square off today for their 15 round match tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden. It will be the first of a series of elimination contests planned during the indoor season to develop another challenger for Jack Dempsey.

Hughie Jennings, the Negro contender is preparing for his fight with Jack Thompson, Boston, next Saturday, Nov. 6, next Monday night. It will be White's second appearance in a campaign which he hopes will lead to a match with the reigning champion.

AMERICAN YEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—This is an American year in the matter of baseball, probably the world series, and the next ranking event is a barn ball way, the Chicago city series, which went to the American League. At the start it seemed very much like a runt of the American leagues. The Giants won two of the first three, only to have the Yankees come back with three straight wins. After losing the first two to the Cubs, the White Sox took the next four.

"Hilarity grows in America," which accounts, no doubt, for the increased popularity of the six-day bike races.

ZEV LEAVES FOR LATONIA TO MEET MY OWN

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Zev, the idol of American turfdom, departs today for Latonia, there to decide on Saturday the mounted question which has the title, "My Own or he."

The Name of Britain's favorite, Papyrus, will appear in the $50,000 Latonia championship, in which My Own also is entered.

Zev topped off his triumphant career yesterday by showing his heels to a field, winning by four lengths the amateur championship of the Metropolitan racing season at Empire City. He aroused great cheer from the crowd despite the fact that the race was all off. Incidentally, the great horse earned in this race $500, increasing his total winnings to $260,000, more than $10,000 greater than Man O' War.

At the end of the mile journey Earle Sande let the brown colt gallop for another quarter before he took him in hand. The mile was run in 1:40 5/8 over a slow track. Braedale, his stablemate, trailed Zev.

The fasts boldion was the first separatist. . . . He figured out a way to separate the magnates from their jock.

Sister says he intends to educate the browns. . . . You can lead a tall player to a classroom but you can't make him think.

Notre Dame players practice in moonlight. Does this explain how they always manage to knock the daylight out of the other guys?

Fred Fulton will never be what you might call an upstanding man in the community as long as he's got that gosh jaw.

Zev, when he arrives, will be quartered in the same barn with the Grayson colt.

With in Memoriam and My Own on the ground, Rinito on the way and Zev coming tomorrow, a field of your horses is certain for the big race. The track was dry and smooth today, and will be in excellent shape by Saturday if fair weather prevails.

Preparations are being made by the Latonia management to receive one of the largest crowds that ever attended a race meeting at that track.

The Rainbirds want games with 125-pound teams. All players are asked to report for practice at the Chambers street playground tomorrow night at 6 o'clock. If games, call 673-W and ask for Cambie.

THAYNOR SHINES

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—"The Trapster of the Pittsburgh Pirates is easily the best third sacker in the National League, and probably the best in either major league. If you are willing to take the word of Hughey Jennings, Thaynor is a natural ball player with a child of ability, says Jennings, and he hasn't yet reached the peak of his game. Joe Dugan of the Yankees is great, but Thaynor is greater, opines Jennings.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

Once a fighter wins a championship he immediately puts the title in a champion belt. He makes it a business to travel states in which decision bouts are staged. When a championship contest is suggested, in which there is a possibility of the title changing hands, he seeks to safeguard himself by insisting on his own referee.

No more than 10 years back the champions did not pursue the safety of their belts. They were now obliged to do so. In those days it didn't take a price of $50,000 or more to lure a champion into the ring with a real contender. These were the days when the title holders were willing to take a chance, were real fighting men. Now when a fighter wins a title he immediately becomes a business man. He seeks to get all the money he can and is not permitted to select his own referee.

In this victory Cobran made the highest run of the week, 116, and in increasing in 10 innings set up the best average, 31 1-3. Hoppe was far off his usual game.

Cobran did not get started until the seventh inning when he made 35 points by masterful play astride the talk lines. He continued his brilliant game throughout the next four innings with runs of 34, 45, 65 and 145.

WASHINGTON MEMORIAL FOR G. O. P. CONVENTION

REPUBLICAN MOVEMENT TRIAL OF CORCORAN COMBAT RUM RUNNING

Bishop Freeman Speaker at Laying of Cornerstone of Masonic Monument

Chicago Has No Chance Unless Hotel Rates Are More Reasonable, Says Adams

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 1.—A plea for the nation's rededication to those principles of unselfish devotion to liberty and human brotherhood of which he called Washington the "great exemplar," was voiced by the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, Episcopal Bishop of Washington, in delivering the principal oration at the laying of the cornerstone today of the George Washington National Masonic Memorial. The bishop warned against influences which tend to create racial and religious hatreds within the nation and those which would alter the fundamental basis of its relations with other peoples.

"We are met here today," he said, "not so much to think of Washington, the patriot, the soldier, the commander-in-chief and ultimately the president of the republic, as of Washington, the high exemplar of those splendid ideals for which this ancient order stands."

"More and more, we are realizing today that if our nation is to endure and occupy its just place of prestige and power among the nations of the world, it must stand squarely and without evasion or modification for those great principles for which the fathers of the nation stood during those pregnant and tremendously important days that marked the genesis and evolution of our form and system of government."

Among influences which have helped shape the destiny of the republic, Bishop Freeman said, none has had more far-reaching effect than that resulting from the principles for which "Free Masonry has ever stood, namely, the fatherhood of God, and brotherhood of man."

He said, "underlie and secure the whole fabric of our fraternity." In recalling the greatness of Washington's character, which so highly exalted these principles of life, the speaker appealed for their "larger expression in this present critical age."

The bishop equally decried that form of individualism today which is so "selfishly insular" that it constitutes "a menace to our ideals and institutions" and those who "in their overweening desire to see us promote what they call an international spirit would have us forget the rock from whence we are hewn and the purpose for which we were born." America, he said, would always discharge its just obligations to the world but it must be permitted to do so in accordance with those rudiments and precepts that have grown out of our experience as a people.

"Our unique and peculiar contribution as a fraternity to the order and peace of the world," the speaker continued, "will be secured only in so far as we exemplify those fundamental principles for which we stand. Our methods are not characterized by force, nor do we extend our influence by any intrusive form of propaganda. Within the hallowed precincts of our lodges rooms where the spirit of a true brotherhood prevails, we observe with respect and reverence our ancient forms and usages, but, however secretly we may observe our ceremonies, we stand before men in the open light of day unabashed and unashamed, with charity for all, and malice towards none."

"We will have no part with those who would create cleavage or divisions, or provoke strife and bitterness between any group or groups within our body corporate. We are loyal without qualification or evasion of any kind to American principles and ideals. We resist with every influence at our command those who would make a travesty of our laws or a mockery of our institutions. We share with Washington that love of country that counts not life dear unto itself. We believe that America is destined under God, to play its large and statesmanlike part in healing the wounds that today distract and retard the progress of the world."

R. R. EXECUTIVES MEET CHAIRMAN MEYER

Making More Progress Than Its Organizers Hoped For, Says Matthes

COBLENZ, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The Rhineland republican movement is making far more rapid progress than its organizers hoped for, due to chance of being selected for the 1924 republican national convention, unless assurances are given that the United States was not established in a day.

"It will take time to perfect our task," he said. "The republic of the Brighton district court in the trial of William J. Corcoran, Harry E. Levenson and others on charges of larceny and extortion. Donovan's former lawyer, John F. McDonald, testified yesterday that Donovan through him had paid both Levenson and Corcoran large sums to escape prosecution after being caught with Mrs. Theodore Duggan in compromising circumstances.

A man Levenson who he would not now recognize, Judge Connally said, accompanied by Corcoran and a Mr. Duggan, applied to him in 1919 for a warrant against a man and a woman. McDonald was present and protested against the issuance of the process, the witness said, but he could not recall whether the lawyer made any charge of blackmail against Corcoran and Levenson. Judge Connally said he had no further recollection of the matter.

POINTS TO BE REFERRED TO EXPERTS

PARIS, Nov. 1—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Poineau's speech at Nevers today is interpreted by the French foreign office as recognizing four points as within the jurisdiction of the committee of experts which is to make inquiry into reparations. The premiers by this recognition, it is held, excluded consideration of any other point. The four points indicated are Germany's present capacity for payment, new methods of payment, the renovation of German finances, a new monetary system.

This program, the foreign office points out, is in line with that indicated in the American note to London. Premier Poineau, it is declared, considers that Germany's debt to the allies was fixed once for all and cannot be changed, any more than the total amounts advanced by the United States to the allies during the war can be changed.

SCOTCH AND IRISH FOLK ARRIVE ON TUSCANIA

PORLTAND, Me., Nov. 1.—Freight ed with a cargo of immigrants composed in the main of sturdy Scotch and Irish folk from the Cunard-Anchor Line's Tuscania, came up the harbor today to the station pier, to discharge all except 76 of her 1388 passengers. The Scotch predominated, numbering 995, while there were 237 of Irish nationality remaining. They turned at the pier, were the President of the United States lines which arrived off the three-mile limit nearly a day ahead of the Tuscania and the North German Lloyd steamship settling with hundreds of other persons aboard.

The Pelle was to have the next chance, it being expected the Tuscania would be able to make way for her this afternoon. It was understood the docking privilege was regulated by the federal officials by the order in which the ships were booked for today.

There was an unusually large number of children, the great majority of them being with mothers, who came over to join their husbands who emigrated in the spring from their homes and have prospered sufficiently to send passage money for their families.

AMERICAN WOOLEN OFFICES AT SHAWSHEEN

SHAWSEN VILLAGE, Andover, Nov. 1.—The transportation and purchasing agents' offices and that of the fourth assistant treasurer of the American Woolen Co. were moved from Boston today. Taxes Pour Into City Coffers

Continued

Treasurer's office. All the big corporations will come under the wire before the office closes at 4 p.m. Nearly a million dollars was taken in yesterday, the exact amount being $41,165.22, all being represented in checks except $16,600 in cash. Heavy payments this forenoon included the $66,491.25 tax of the Lawrence Mill Co., and the tax of the Tremont & Suffolk, the largest in the city, amounting to $103,225.32.

This is the first year the state has operated under the new state finance law which makes it mandatory upon the treasurer to collect taxes the same year in which they are levied and it has worked out very well. It is believed the amount outstanding after today will be small.

Tax Books Ready

Five thousand copies of the 1922 city tax list were placed on the counter of the assessing department at city hall today for public distribution upon personal application and so brisk was the demand that more than 2000 of the books had been given out at noontime. It is expected the entire allotment will be gone by tomorrow night.

This is the first tax list to be published since 1919 and during the four years interval the public evidently has developed a considerable desire for the books, hence the general demand made.

Because of the rather limited supply, only one book is given a person.

Visitors From Harvard

A class of twelve public health students from Harvard in charge of Professor Gordon M. Fair, visited Lowell today in the interest of sanitation and water supply and spent the forenoon in an inspection of the water works pumping station, the well fields and filtration plant.

Three Men Kidnapped

Leo Isaacs, restaurant proprietor under the care of physicians as a result of the beating, told newspapermen that four men seized him at the door of his cafe, started him in an automobile to the woods about two miles from town, where they beat him, a whipping brace said, till a assailants handed him a letter warning him to close up his business in 10 days and not to open it under threat of death.

He has been arrested many times on federal warrants charging him with violation of the law.

"If the owners cannot handle you we can and will."

Enrique Rosa, head waiter of a cafe here was spirited away by a band of men to the woods near Oldsmar, 10 miles west of Tampa, where he was beaten and left to make his way home.

Andrew Williams, negro restaurant proprietor, was taken to a point near Myrtle Hill cemetery, five miles north of here and beaten both men received written warnings similar to that given Isaacs. They were signed "the three Isaacs."

Judge Testifies He Was Asked to Issue Warrant for Arrest of Donovan

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Testimony that he had been asked to issue a warrant for the arrest of James Donovan on a statutory charge was given today by Judge Thomas H. Connally of the Brighton district court in the trial of William J. Corcoran, Harry E. Levenson and others on charges of larceny and extortion. Donovan's former lawyer, John F. McDonald, testified yesterday that Donovan through him had paid both Levenson and Corcoran large sums to escape prosecution after being caught with Mrs. Theodore Duggan in compromising circumstances.

Legal Objections Probable as Result of Arrangement Worked Out in London

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Although both the White House and the state department appear entirely satisfied with the practicability of the arrangement worked out in London to combat rum-running, there are indications that legal objections may be brought forward in other branches of the government and may play a prominent part in Seattle action when the proposed treaty comes up for ratification.

Department of justice officials have not yet passed formally on the legality of that portion of the plan which would extend to British ships the right to bring liquor stores into American waters, and there are some lawyers in that department who are inclined to doubt whether such a privilege could be legally given except by a constitutional amendment.

Secretary Hughes is known to have based his proposal, so far as it affects liquor, on the theory that the law held by the supreme court to exclude alcoholic ship stores from American waters could be effectively amended by a treaty ratified by the senate. Recently this same view was expressed at the White House.

ELLIS ISLAND SWAMPED

10,000 Immigrants Brought in Under the November Quota

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Ellis Island was swamped today with 10,000 immigrants brought in under the November quota early today on eight trans-Atlantic liners. Government officials said the yearly quotas of several nations would be exhausted before the day was done.

The closing was firm. The shipplings assumed the leadership of the late advance. Marine preferred rising three points to 34½.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 21

Jack watched the great excitement until the last of the animals had gone free and the last of the birds had taken to the air. Flip had also been startled when all the animals and birds came to life, but he recovered in time to chase some of the birds as they flew away.

"And now let's return to the castle," said Jingo. "Oh, I'm afraid to," replied Jack. "I'm afraid the king will be mad because I set all his animals and birds free." "Don't worry about him," laughed Jingo. "He's sound asleep by this time." So they entered the castle again.

As they reached the great room of metal horses and knights Jack saw a big shining helmet in a corner. "I wonder how I would look in this," he said. "Try it on," suggested Jingo. So Jack did, and it seemed to fit him fine. Then came the scarey Clank, Clank, Clank! (Continued.)

GOODBY TO SQUEALY-MOO LAND

"Well," said Farmer Brown one day as he walked through the cornfield, "it's getting pretty late in the fall and I think this corn is dry enough for husking. Tomorrow I'll hitch Charlie and Bob to the big wagon and we'll take down the corn-shucks and haul the corn in. Then I'll invite all my neighbors over and we'll have a husking bee and my wife will have cider and doughnuts for them."

Farmer Brown was talking to himself, but three pairs of sharp little ears heard every word he said.

Nancy looked sad. "If Farmer Brown takes away all the corn-shucks he'll take your house too," she said, "and where will you live this winter, Mister Dodger?"

"Why, the go and rest for a spell," answered the little fairy fellow cheerily. "I'll go back to the Fairies' hotel in Fairyland where most of the fairies stay when they aren't working. I haven't seen my friends for a long time and I'll do me good to have a good visit with Master Tattletale and Master Scribble-Scribble and all the others I haven't seen for so long."

Farmer Brown was talking to himself, but three pairs of sharp little ears heard every word he said.

"Well, if you go, well go, too," declared Nancy. "I mean we can't stay in Squealy-Moo Land by ourselves. I was just coming to that," nodded Mister Dodger with a mysterious smile. "Useful people are never out of a job, my dears."

He reached into his pocket and pulled out a letter. "I found this on the table when I came in today," he said. "Silver Wing, the Fairy Queen's messenger, must have brought it while we were out."

It was addressed to the Twins, and read:

Dear Twins,
Please come to my palace as soon as you get this. I want you to go south to Dixie Land.
Lovingly yours,

The Fairy Queen.
"Another adventure!" cried Nick. "I told you so!" said Mister Dodger. "Come! We'll say goodbye to our friends and be going."

FIELD PRACTICE

THE CAMERA LIES

One would judge from this photo showing Lloyd George leaving the White House after a chat with President Coolidge, that the English statesman is—er—ahem—knock-kneed. But he isn't. It's just the unusual slant the camera took of him.

Moscow Directed Uprising in Bulgaria

SOFIA, Nov. 1.—The Bulgarian government claims that after an exhaustive study of evidence in their possession, they have established clearly the fact that the recent communist uprising in Bulgaria was both ordered and directed by officers of the Third Internationale in Moscow. This evidence will be used by the government, it is reported, for outlawing the Bulgarian communists party in the same manner that the Serbian communists were outlawed over a year ago. The first result of this action will be to prevent the communists from voting in the elections on Nov. 18.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press) More than 30 municipalities in England and Wales today elect councillors to replace the one-third of the total number of representatives who retire annually. The feature of the present contest is the strenuous effort being made by laborites and socialists to retrieve the reversals suffered by them during the past two years and to increase their representations beyond any point which they have hitherto attempted. The main issues upon which they have built their campaign are unemployment and the housing shortage, but as their policy on these questions entails a considerable outlay of public expense they are meeting with hot opposition.

BAD SMASHUP ON THE LOWELL-LAWRENCE BOULEVARD—POLICE SEEK LOWELL MAN

Methuen and Lowell police are today searching for a Lowell man, reported to be the driver of an Apperson sedan that collided with a Ford touring car on the Lowell-Lawrence boulevard, near the icehouses, about 12:30 o'clock this morning. As a result of the collision Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cole of 598 Middlesex street, this city, and John Williams of 56 High street, Lawrence, were removed to the Lawrence general hospital. Their injuries are not serious, however.

A formal charge has been preferred against the Lowell man, that of going away after an accident without making himself known.

Mr. Cole and his wife were driving in the Ford in the direction of Lawrence, when the accident happened, taking Williams and another Lawrence man, William A. Bell, to their names.

Planning Board Giving Serious Consideration to Two Proposals for New Thoroughfares Across the Concord River

The accompanying diagram is re-produced to show two proposals for the relief of downtown traffic and for the creation of a new thoroughfare across the Concord river to run fairly parallel to Central street. Each of the proposals has its beginning in Davidson street at its start at East Merrimack street. Each would call for a widening to 60 feet, the seizure of much tenement and mill property and the erection of a bridge over the river, one to terminate directly opposite the extension of Davidson street and the other to terminate at the junction of Warren and George streets.

In either case Davidson street would have to be widened by the seizure of tenement property and a part of the brick garage on the east side and another piece of tenement property nearer the river on the west side. The present width of Davidson street is not adequate, engineers say.

This diagram is not large enough to show the proposal submitted by Mayor John J. Donovan, which includes the bridging of the canal which crosses East Merrimack street at the Prescott mill and a bridge across the canal to terminate in the rear of the Strand Theatre building. This proposal also is before the planning board for consideration.

It will be seen that the upper proposal makes for a new thoroughfare which would be perfectly straight and an actual extension of Davidson street as it runs from East Merrimack. While the other proposal would necessitate a slight angle, the bridge work in this case would be considerably less.

she has been since 1918, and her place is taken by Miss Marion Ryan, assistant music and physical director, commencing today.

MATRIMONIAL
One of the prettiest fall weddings was celebrated Monday evening at 5 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception rectory, when Mr. Joseph D. Hand and Miss Anna E. Kelleher were united in marriage by Very Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I. The bride was handsomely attired in a dress of white georgette silk and wore a silk net veil. She carried bridal roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Katherine H. Kelleher, sister of the bride, was becomingly gowned in yellow taffeta with picture hat to match and carried American beauty roses. The best man was Mr. Roy Hand, a brother of the bridegroom. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents. Later in the evening the bridal pair left on a brief honeymoon trip to Boston, Newton, Marlboro and Meriden, Conn. Upon their return they will make their home at 186 Tenth street.
